The Rotunda

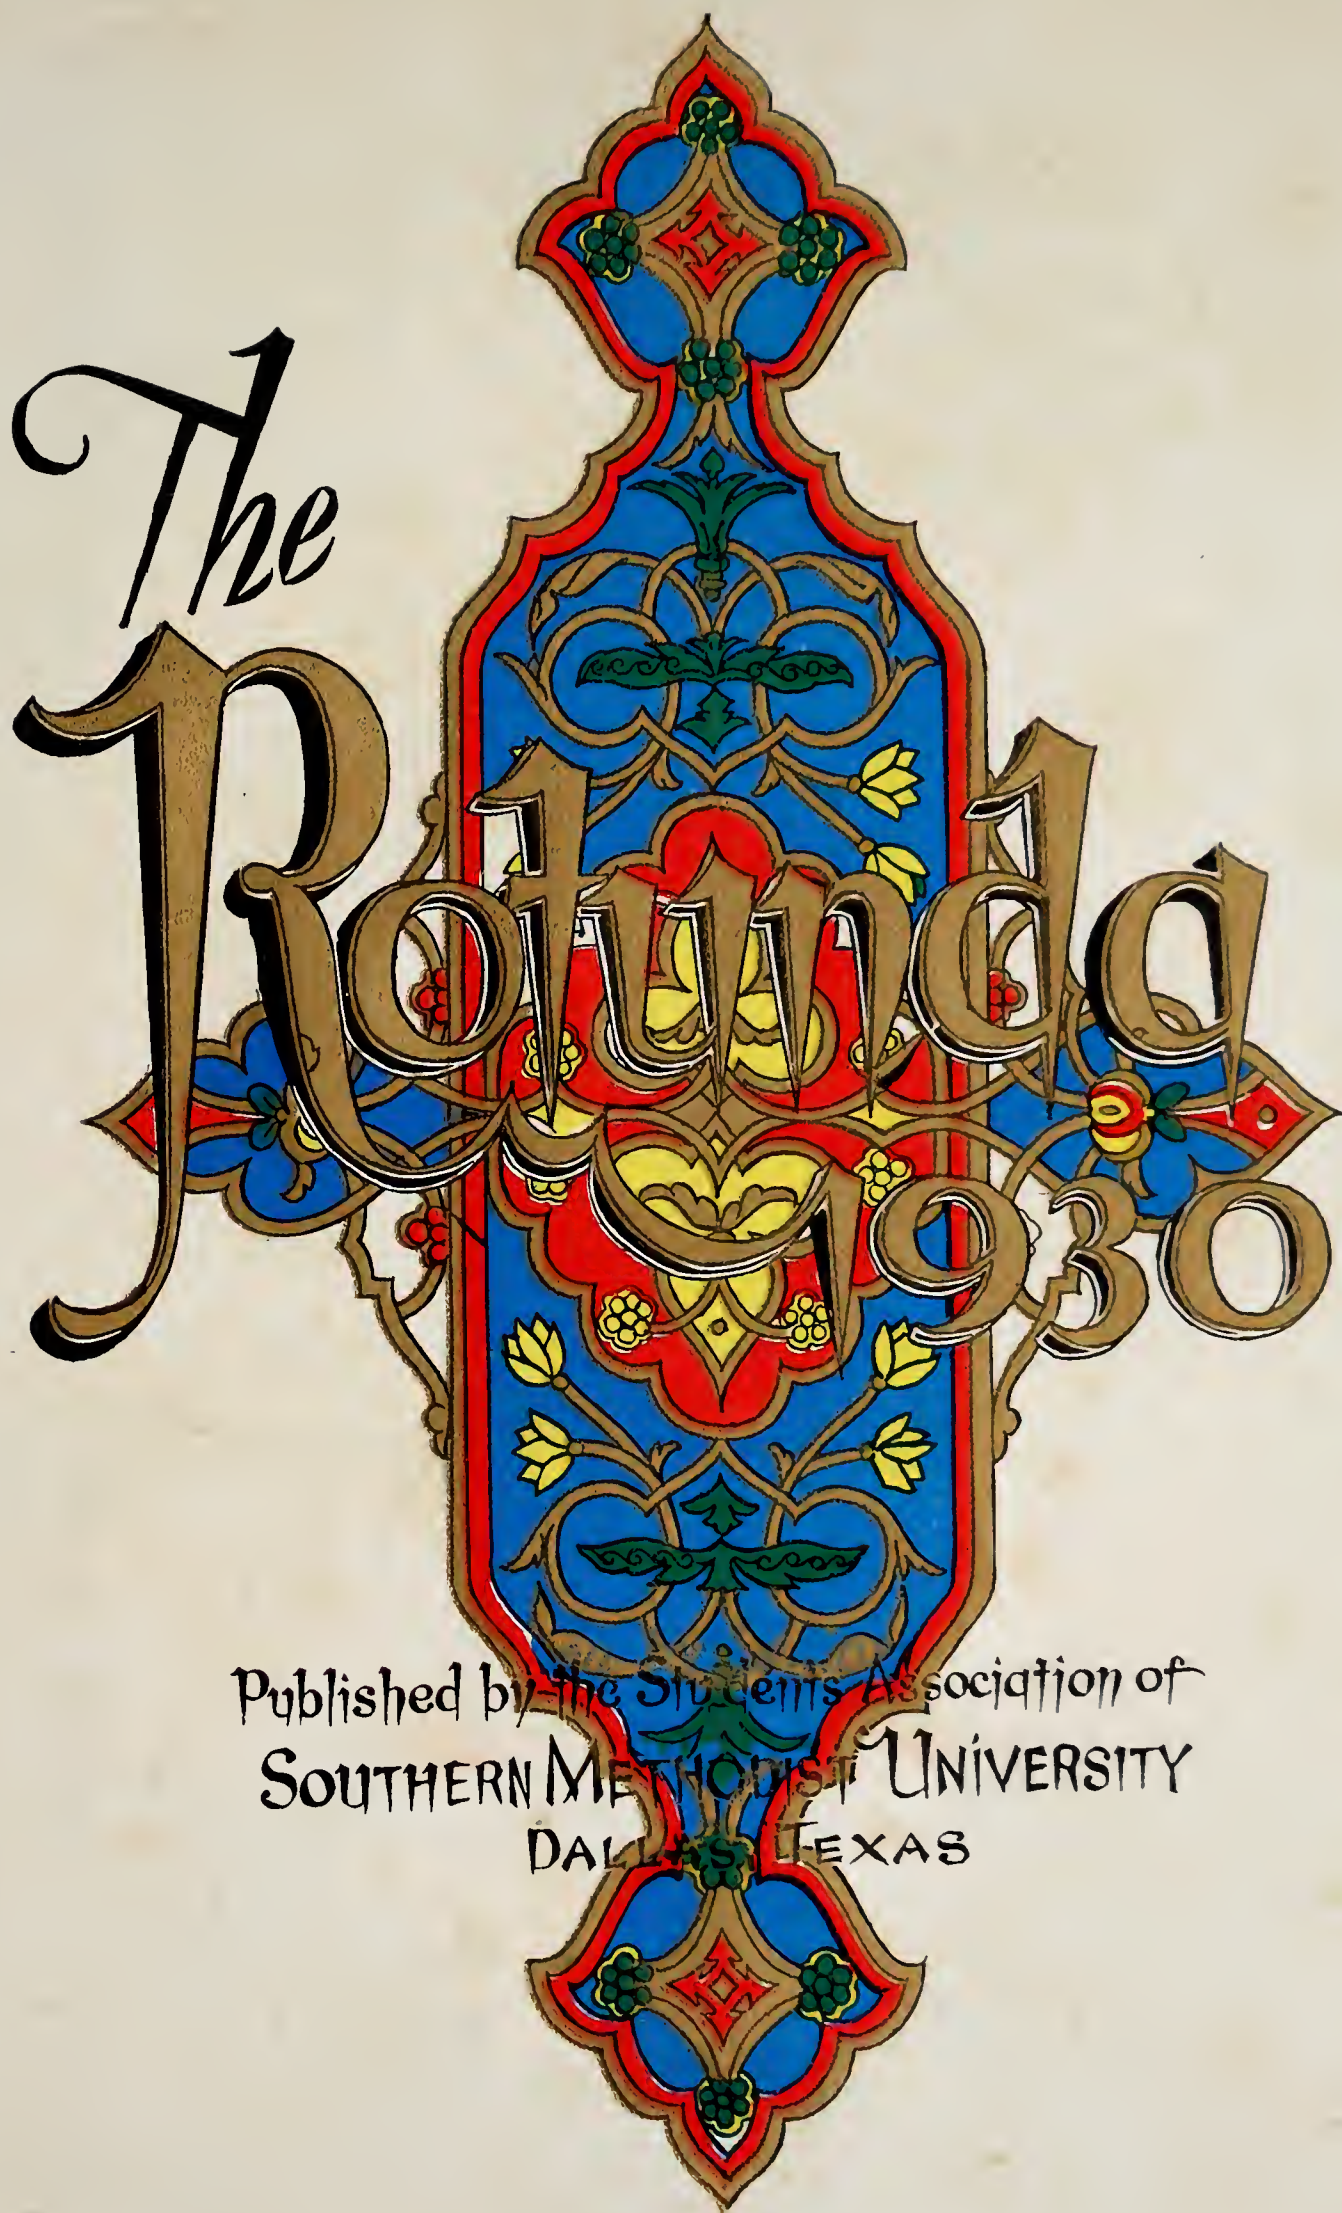

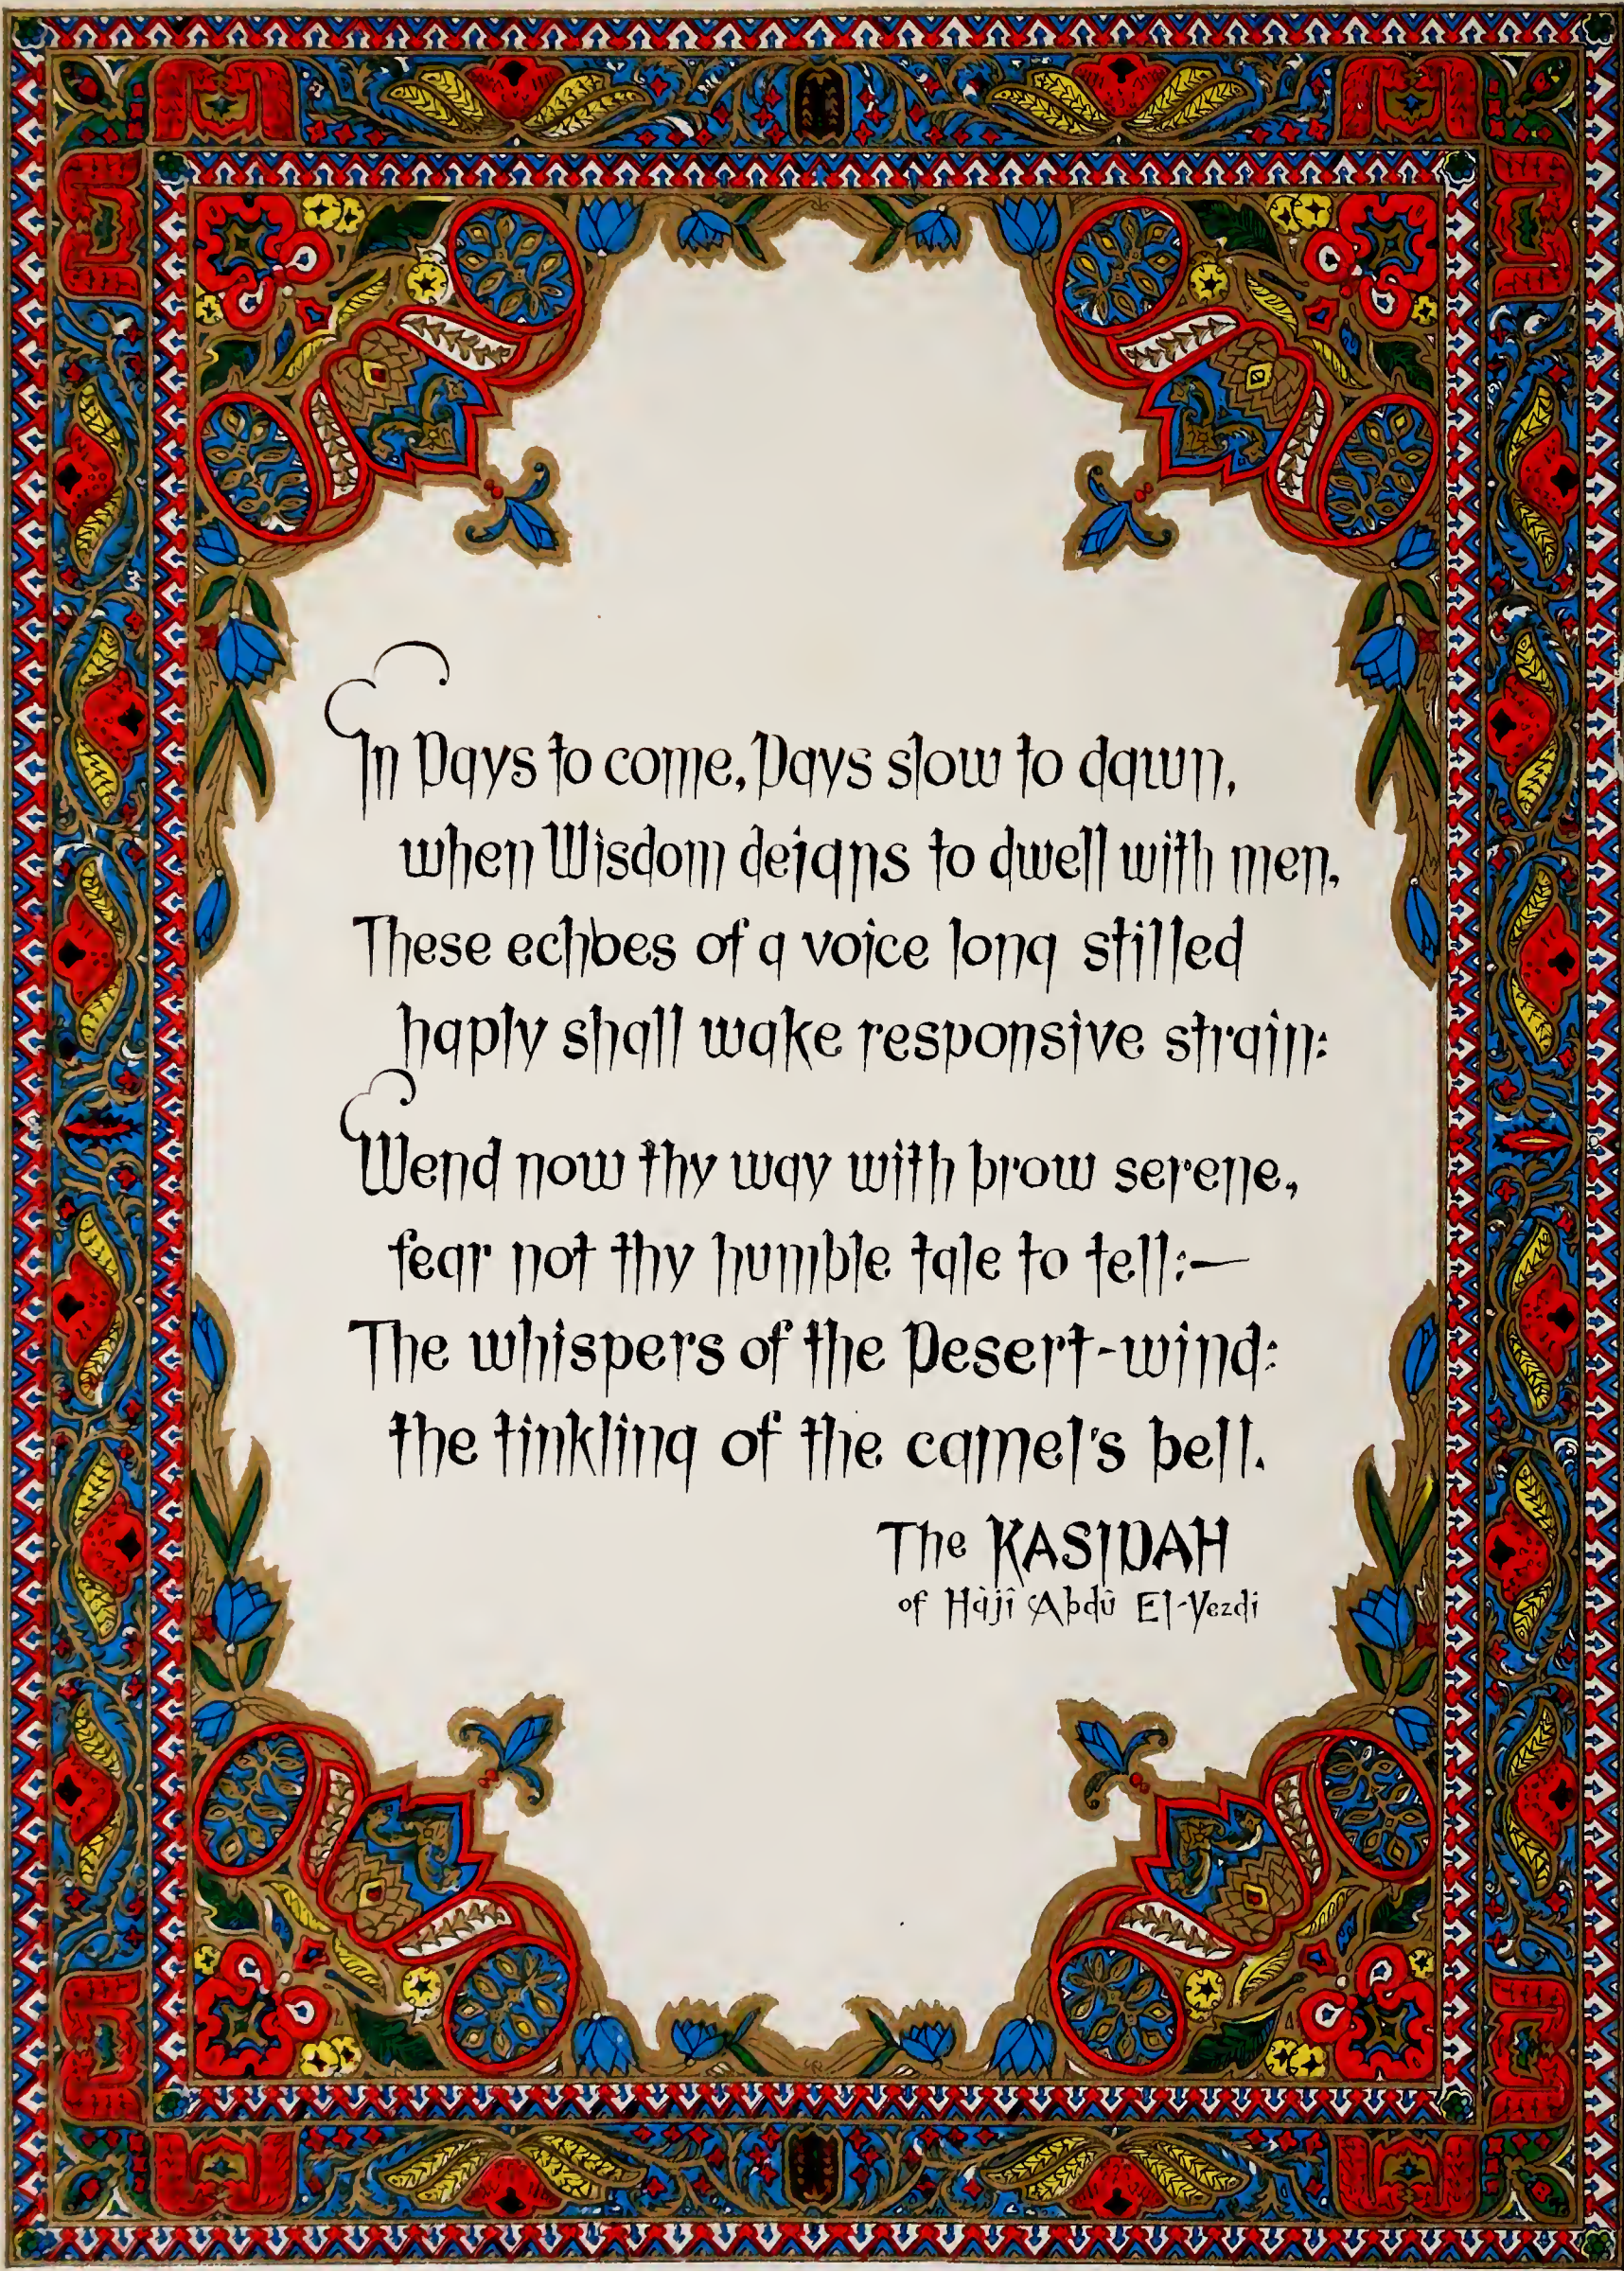

The Golden Gates swing right and left;
up springs the Sun with flamy brow;
The dew-cloud melts in gush of light;
brown Earth is bathed in morning glow.

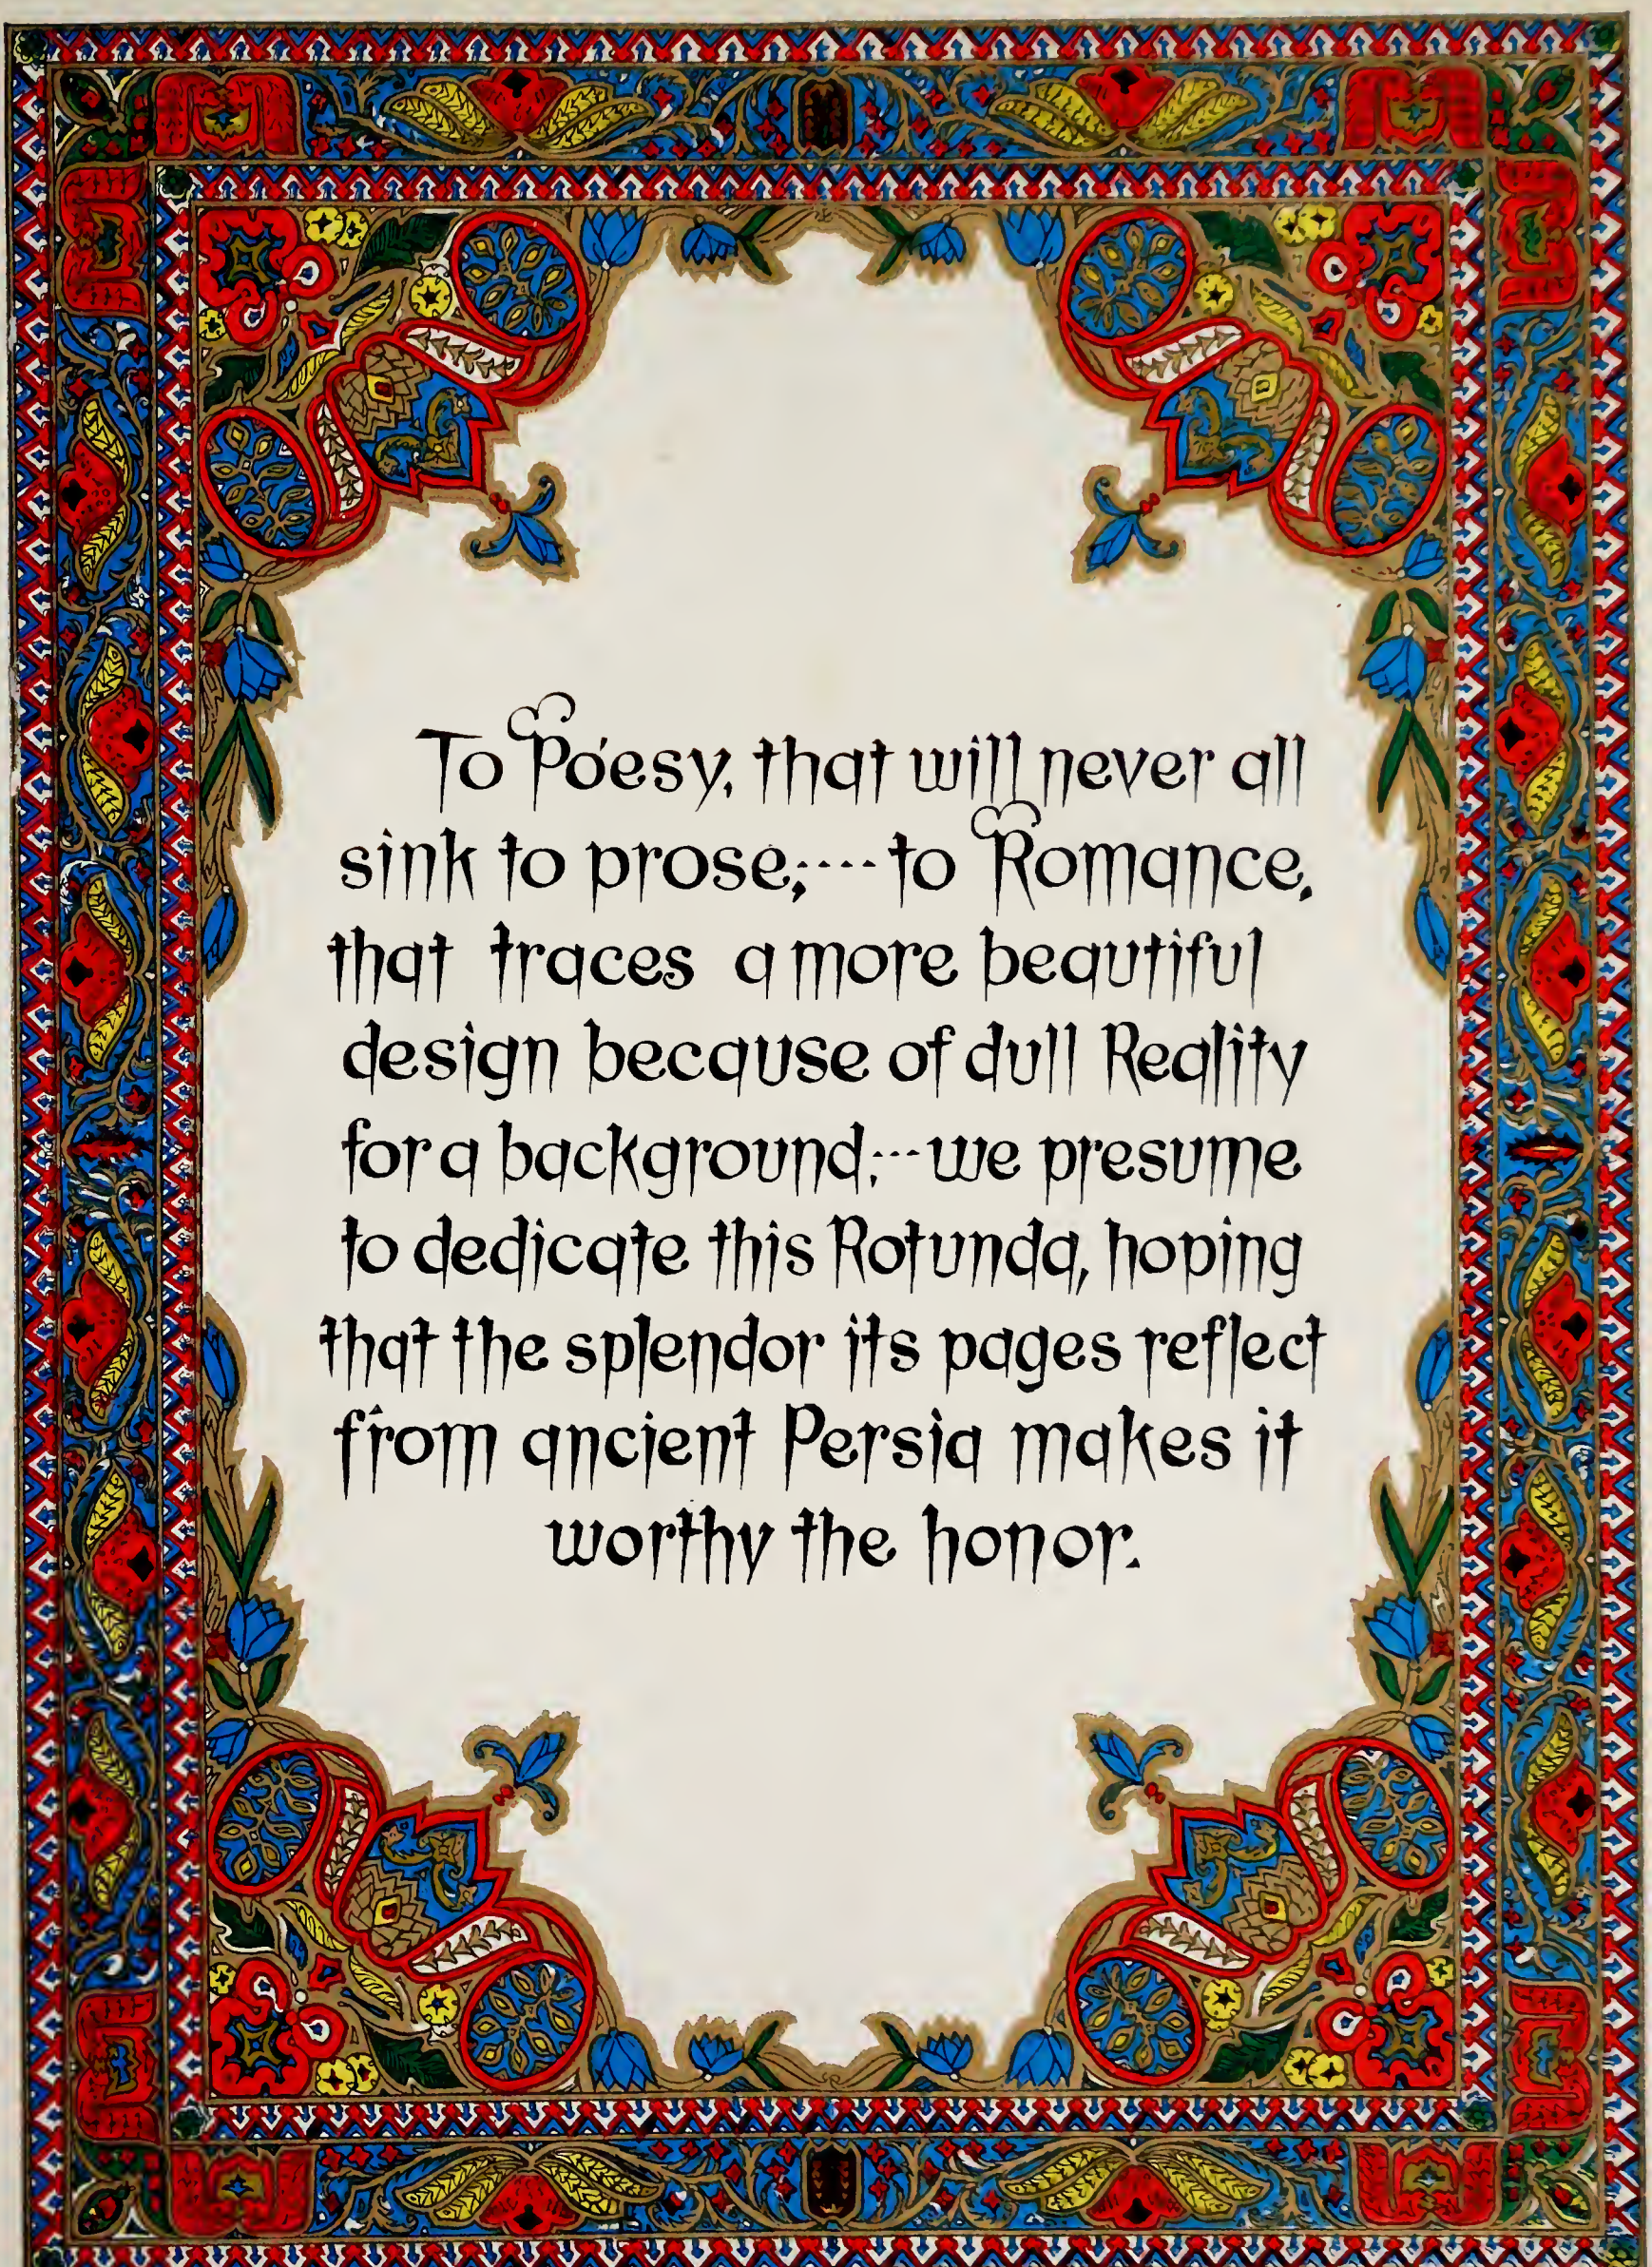

Slowly they wind athwart the wild,
and while young Day his anthem swells,
Sad falls upon my yearning ear
the tinkling of the camel-bells.

In Days to come, Days slow to dawn,
when Wisdom deigns to dwell with men,
These echoes of a voice long stilled
haply shall wake responsive strain:
Wend now thy way with brow serene,
fear not thy humble tale to tell:—
The whispers of the Desert-wind:
the tinkling of the camel's bell.

The KASIDAH
of Hāji Abdū El-Yezdi

To Poesy, that will never all sink to prose;--- to Romance, that traces a more beautiful design because of dull Reality for a background;--- we presume to dedicate this Rotunda, hoping that the splendor its pages reflect from ancient Persia makes it worthy the honor.

Friends of my youth, a last adieu!
haply some day we meet again:
Yet ne'er the self-same men shall meet;
the years shall make us other men:

The light of morn has grown to noon,
has paled with eve, and now farewell!
Go, vanish from my Life as dies
the tinkling of the camel's bell.

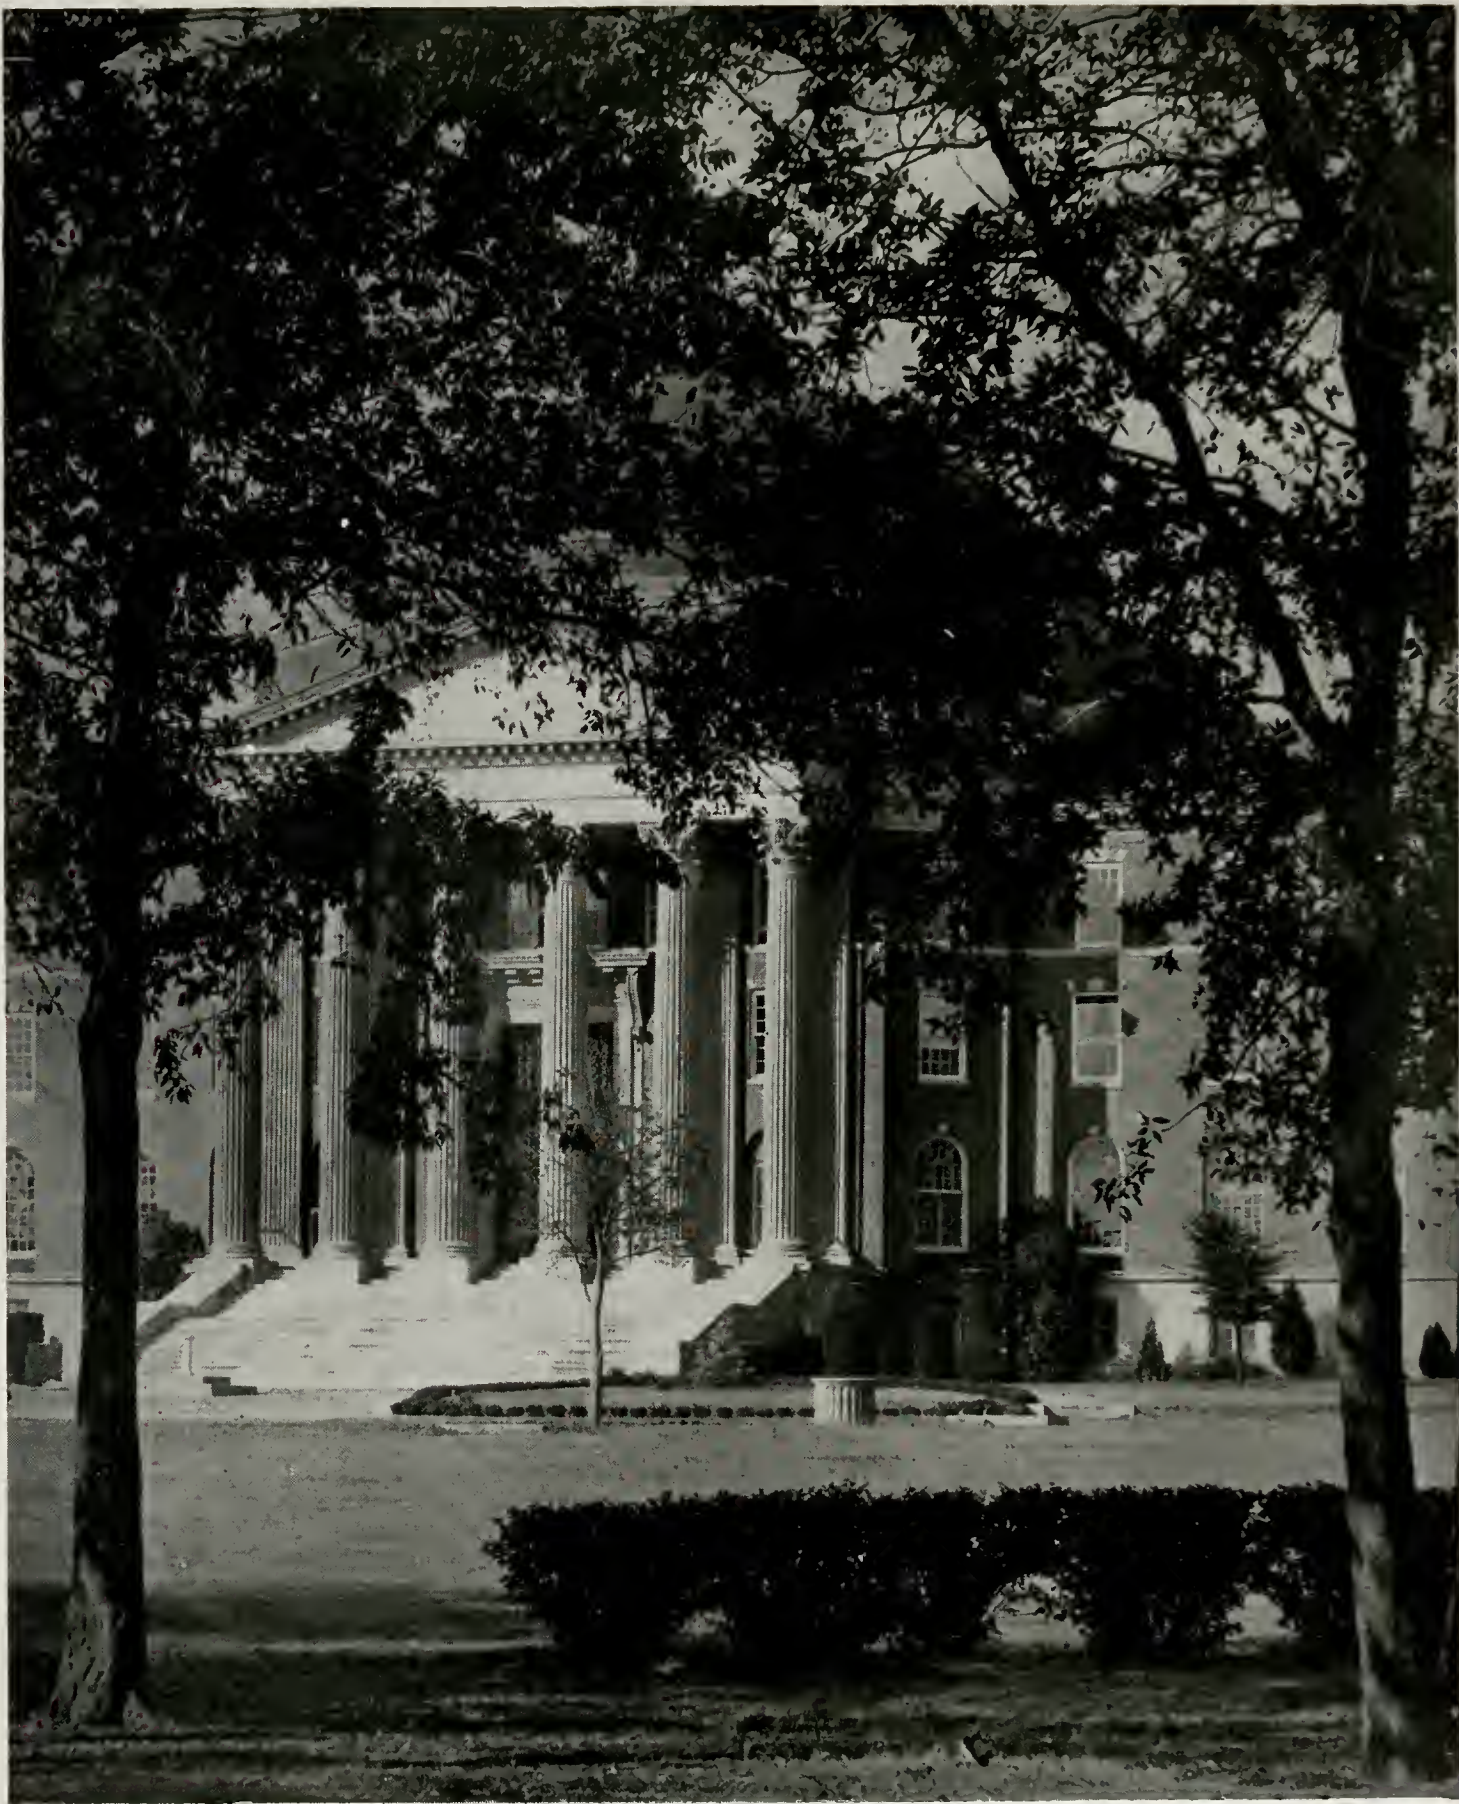

Friends of my youth! do not despair!
Happy some day we meet again:
Yet never the self-same men shall meet:
The years shall make us other men:
The light of morning has grown to noon,
Has faded with eve, and now (dreadful)
Do vanish from my life as dies
The twinkling of the comet's bell.

ADMINISTRATION

GREETINGS

from the President

YEAR after year it is a pleasant task to send greetings through The Rotunda to the students and alumni of Southern Methodist University.

The pleasure is deeper and has more verve because the annual Volume is maintaining a high standard of dignity and artistic workmanship. It seems also to typify the buoyant, luxuriant phase of university life, the flare of youth, the joy of that society of young intellectuals who give some dash and color to campus, dormitory and class room.

Yes, Sir Critic! You are brutally correct. Youth has its effervescence, its precariousness, its immature and hasty reactions—even its coarser responses to life. But withal, who of us who have passed the forties do not find grace to thank Heaven that lads and lassies have not lost their quick pace, that their eyes still reflect the bead and sparkle of new wine?

You are listening now, Sir, to one whose confidence in young life is a full and growing satisfaction, who is audacious enough to hope that humanity is yet to be renewed by this never-failing, ever-surging crimson stream of warm life blood that flows into the sullen river of destiny. Youth may yet dream and dare and perform miracles until we shall behold a new heaven and a new earth—a world shorn of every type of slavery, devoid of grinding toil and degrading poverty, delivered from the insanity and butchery of war, resplendent with color and resonant with songs of conquest, even the conquest of truth!

Wave, banners, wave! Blow, bugles, blow! Shouts and laughter! Sunrise and onward! Youth is ever our hope and our deliverance.

Sincerely,

CHARLES C. SELECMAN

ANY ex-student who has done work in Southern Methodist University is a member of the Ex-Student's Association. The association serves many purposes. It binds together those individuals who have worked untiringly for the development of the University and assists in perpetuating those memories by its continued contact. The organization renders many other services directly to S. M. U. Its members cooperate with the student body in student activities; they maintain an employment bureau for students and new graduates; they establish loan funds for students, and they assist the administration in presenting the cause of the University to prospective students.

H. M. WHALING

LAYTON W. BAILEY

R. L. BREWER

Executives of the University

HORACE MORLAND WHALING, JR.
Vice-President

A. B., Texas University, 1903; B. D., Vanderbilt, 1907; D. D., Centenary College, 1926. Dr. Whaling came to S. M. U. in 1917 from Houston, where he was Pastor of the McKee Street Church. He has served faithfully in the capacity of Vice-President of the University, and has been instrumental in many changes being inaugurated for the betterment of the Administration and the University as a whole. He is a member of the Dallas Athletic Club and the Dallas Country Club.

LAYTON WEAVER BAILEY
Business Manager

Mr. Bailey was office manager of the Methodist Publishing House for fourteen years. He came to S. M. U. in 1924 to assume the position of Business Manager of the University. Mr. Bailey not only has charge of all funds and budgets relative to the University, but is also Secretary of the Athletic Council, Secretary to the Board of Trustees, and Secretary-Treasurer of the University. He has administered the finances in such manner that Southern Methodist University is now placed in a very strong position as compared to other universities of its class.

ROBERT LEE BREWER
Registrar

A. B., Southwestern. Mr. Brewer was formerly connected with Southwestern University in the capacity of registrar. When he came to S. M. U., registration was handled through the Business Office. He has been instrumental in separating the two departments, providing at the same time adequate filing systems for student transfers and regular records of students attending the University.

E. H. FLATH

W. F. HAUHART

C. S. POTTS

Deans of the University

EARL HUGO FLATH

Dean of the School of Engineering

E. E., Cincinnati, 1919; M. S., Georgia School of Technology, 1926. After having served Georgia Tech as Director of Cooperative Courses, he was called to S. M. U. in 1925 to plan and institute a similar arrangement. The plan has worked to tremendous advantage among the students. Under his administration the school has more than doubled in enrollment, necessitating the construction of the comparatively new building, now occupied by the school.

WILLIAM FREDERICK HAUHART

Director of the School of Commerce

A. B., Missouri, 1901; A. M., 1902; Ph. D., Columbia, 1909. Dr. Hauhart served the University of Michigan in the capacity of Assistant Professor of Economics. He came to S. M. U. in 1921, and since that time, he has enlarged and bettered the Commerce School until it was admitted to the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.

CHARLES SHIRLEY POTTS

Dean of the School of Law

A. B., Texas, 1902; A. M., 1902; LL. B., 1909, S. J. D., Harvard, 1926. Dean Potts came to S. M. U. from George Washington University in St. Louis, where he was Dean of the Law School. He has been instrumental in securing several additions to the teaching force, and has placed many new volumes in the law library.

DR. E. D. JENNINGS

DR. C. A. NICHOLS

DR. JAMES KILGORE

Deans of the University

ELZY DEE JENNINGS

Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences

A. B., Randolph, 1900; H. B., Texas, 1913; A. M., 1913; Ph. D., 1924. Dean Jennings was Vice-President of Texas Woman's College prior to his coming to S. M. U. in 1922. Due largely to his efforts, Southern Methodist University has been admitted to the Association of American Universities and the women of the University to the Association of American University Women.

CLAUDE ANDREW NICHOLS

Director of the School of Education

A. B., Southwestern, 1898; Ph. D., Havana, 1905. Dr. Nichols came to us in 1919 from Southwestern where he held the same position which he now holds in S. M. U. He has sponsored provision of special courses and specific training for undergraduates in his school, and of suitable graduate courses, encouraging research.

JAMES KILGORE

Dean of the School of Theology

A. B., Southwestern, 1889; A. M., 1890; D. D., 1908. Dean Kilgore was formerly engaged as Presiding Elder of the Houston District of the Methodist Church. Since coming to S. M. U., he has raised the standards of scholarship so that the school now receives more A. B. men than in years past.

PAUL VAN KATWIJK

DR. E. W. SHULER

DR. HENRY K. TAYLOR

Deans of the University

PAUL VAN KATWIJK

Dean of the School of Music

Graduate, Royal College of Music, The Hague, 1904. Dean Van Katwijk came to S. M. U. in 1918 from Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, where he was head of the Department of Piano. During his administration, three courses have been added to those already offered in the school, an oratorio has been presented each year, and an average of twenty radio recitals per year have been given.

ELLIS WILLIAM SHULER

Dean of the Graduate School

A. B., Emory and Henry, 1903; A. M., Vanderbilt, 1907; Ph. D., Harvard, 1915. Dr. Shuler came to S. M. U. in 1916. During his regime, the Graduate School's enrollment has become five times as great as when he arrived on the campus. He has also been instrumental in the formation of a permanent Graduate Club.

HENRY KIRBY TAYLOR

Director of the Extension Department

A. B., Kentucky Wesleyan, 1879; A. M., 1880; LL. D., 1927. Dr. Taylor came from Texas Woman's College where he was head of the Department of Sociology in 1922. He has organized travel tours covering Western United States, The Caribbean, Cuba, and Panama, and contemplates organization of tours of the Hawaiian Islands, and of the countries bordering the Mediterranean. His departmental enrollment has increased eleven fold since he became Dean.

R. E. DICKENSON

MARY R. HAY

A. C. ZUMBRUNEN

Deans of the University

ROBERT EDWARD DICKENSON

Chaplain of the University

B. D., Vanderbilt, 1900; A. B., Morressville College, 1897; A. M., Morressville College, 1903. Rev. Dickenson came to S. M. U. in 1924. He has held a professorship in the department of religion since then, and has served as head of the department since that time. He has served as director of all religious activities on the campus and has acted in the capacity of Chaplain of the University for the past few years. Rev. Dickenson has presented some very valuable and interesting chapel programs during the course of the year, and the school is very much indebted to him for his untiring efforts.

MRS. MARY RANDLE HAY

Dean of Women

Graduate, North Texas Female College, 1892. Mrs. Hay was employed by the Southwestern Life Insurance Company in 1923 when she was called to S. M. U. Mrs. Hay had an active part in the financial drives for the girls' dormitories. She has succeeded in so organizing her staff of matrons and assistants in these dormitories as to assist girls on scholastic probation, thus raising the average of scholarship for girls.

ALBERT CLAY ZUMBRUNEN

Dean of Men

A. B., Central, 1907; A. M., Missouri, 1909. Before coming to S. M. U. Dean Zumbrun was Cultivation Secretary of the Methodist Church. He has instituted Freshman Instruction Week, and the present system of Freshmen Advisers.

THE Student Council is the official organ through which the students voice their opinion of rules and regulations governing the student body in general. Its purpose is to grant aid to the administration concerning vital university problems. Some of the more important activities during the year were the revision of the Constitution, revision of the Student Publications Amendment and its submission to the student body, and the appointment of James Gillentine as Associate Editor of the Campus.

IT IS the duty of the Women's Self-Governing Board to maintain order in the dormitories, handle all breaches of disciplinary rules, and to promote a spirit of friendly cooperation between the women students. The Board's activity during the year consisted largely of a revision of the Constitution and the establishment of new rules to govern both Virginia and Snider Halls.

In Memoriam

AS LONG AS Southern Methodist University lives, the name of Robert Stewart Hyer will linger in the memory of men. He will be remembered as the leader in a movement that resulted in the foundation of an institution, great both in purpose and possibilities.

A man of vision, he looked beyond the difficulties of the undertaking and, clear-eyed, saw what others scarcely dared to hope. He became the very incarnation of the definite enterprise and directed the energies and the faith of a people until the dream became a reality. As the first president of the University, he wrought into its structure his ideals—a sense of genuine scholarship, honorable traditions, and a passion for service.

But perhaps the truest monument to Dr. Hyer will be found in the hearts and minds of those men and women who have known him as a teacher and as a friend, those who have lived within the inner circle of his noble life. They can never forget the vigorous strength of his keen intellect, his passionate devotion to truth, his knightly sense of honor, his characteristic generosity of spirit, his fundamental integrity of character, his simple yet abiding faith in God and man. Through them will be transmitted to successive generations the rich heritage of his works and deeds.

In terms of dollars and cents, he may not be called a financial success, for he has left behind him little of this world's goods; but true manhood can not be measured by market quotations and real life is beyond the computations of money changers. He gave himself unreservedly to a great cause. Who can estimate the value of incarnate love and personified truth? Who, then, would dare to measure in finite terms the infinite results of a great life?

Some two hundred and fifty loyal supporters made the trip to Lincoln, Nebraska, to see the Mustangs play the Cornhuskers to a 0-0 standstill. This was recognized as one of the principal inter-sectional tilts of the year, and gave S. M. U. another boost in the athletic world. Local supporters were accorded a great welcome by Nebraska.

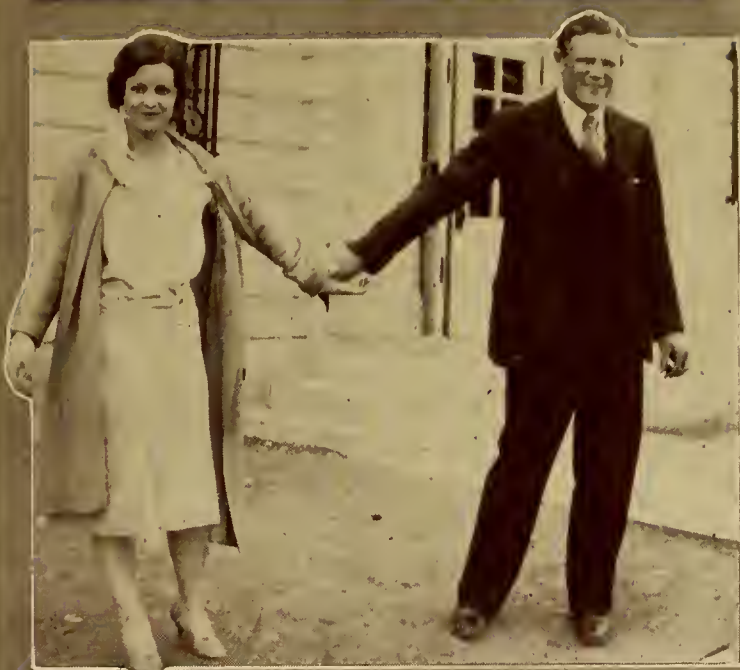

There was much in store for those students who made the trip to Nebraska besides the game. The Mustang Band serenaded many towns en route and helped to keep student spirit at its highest point. While there were a great variety of ways of passing the time, bridge seemed to be the principal diversion for the majority of the students.

Near the close of the greatest football season in S. M. U. history, the Ex-Students celebrated their annual homecoming. A committee composed of such prominent exes as Gerald Mann, Charles Payne, Judith Joor, and James Baird arranged an interesting program. The annual tree-planting ceremony was the principal event.

Perhaps the most tragic event of the year was the fire which destroyed the Chemistry shack, resulting in a loss of approximately $30,000. Everyone turned out in whatever apparel they could assemble in a short period of time, and the scene of the disaster very greatly resembled a bonfire pep rally on the eve of an important football game.

The Senior Arden Club presented "Caste" by T. W. Robertson on January 10th and 11th. The play was received more enthusiastically than any in recent years. Mr. Russell directed the cast composed of Artemas Roberts, Glen McDaniel, John Davenport, Norris Creath, William Shapard, Katherine Rike, Mabel Fowler and Eloise Eubank.

Middle-class American home life was well represented by the Senior Arden Club, when they presented Kelly's "The Show-Off". Miss McCord directed the cast composed of Pauline Stevenson, Madge Hauger, Doris Mayer, Don Culbertson, John Davenport, William Shapard, Emory Buckner, Martin Pickett and Glen McDaniel.

The Kill Kare Carnival is an annual event of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. It was held this year on September 30th at the Old Gym. All of the sororities co-operated by setting up booths and by turning in various entertainment skits. Proceeds from the Carnival are turned over to the "Y" for eleemosynary purposes.

These spots will forever be held sacred in the memory of the student body for the part they play in the lives of each individual student. The scenes depict the finest in architecture for the advancement of the University. The sketch at the lower right of the illustration is the architect's conception of the proposed Library Building.

Hollister has become a word of magic in the colleges of the Southwest. Quietly waiting by the shore of the lake, high in the Ozark hills, it is the Mecca each June for about three hundred college men and women who meet there for the ten-day conference of the summer period. Various religious topics are discussed annually at the conference.

A large number of S. M. U. students attend Camp Hollister every year. The students enjoy boating, fishing, hiking, swimming, and many other modern sports, besides securing the realization of a new world fellowship in service. Fresh air, exercise and sunshine work their wonders at Hollister to build clean minds and sturdy bodies.

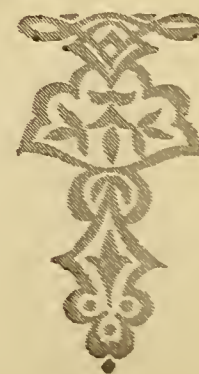

The second annual election to determine the Representative Mustangs was held in February. By vote, the students designated five girls and five boys whom they deemed worthy to bear such an honor. Top left, Allie Angell; top right, Kenneth Mahoney; lower left, Bernice Ballard; center, Ruth Gibbons; lower right, Hawkins Golden.

The vote was taken in chapel, and came as a surprise to the students. The vote was free from politics and the students elected represent those who are outstanding in campus life, according to popular opinion. Top left, Al Brooks; top right, Yvonne Hollis; lower left, Marion Hammon; center Malcolm Powell; lower right, Gene Caldwell.

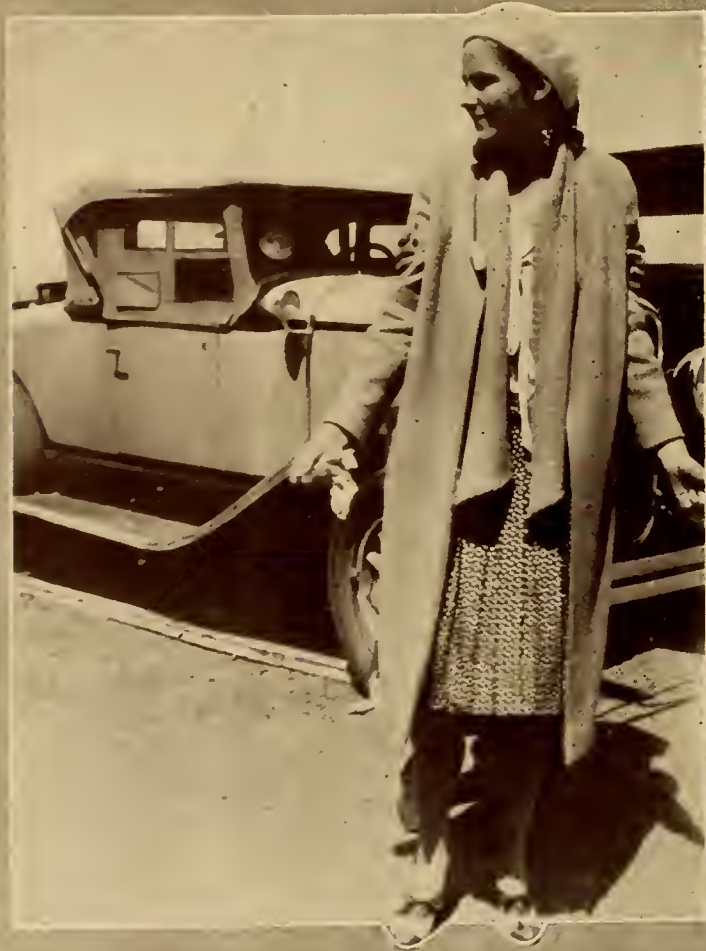

The winter season finds the students abroad on the campus, enjoying the warm sunshine of the dear Old Southland. However, all of the days cannot be bright and sunny. Snider fountain presents fantastic figures of Jack Frost on the colder days. A few S. M. U. engineers labor, untiringly, on the Trinity River levee project.

Mid-Semester finds our athletes quite busy at the stadium while Garrett, the guardian of all true Mustangs, prepares to distribute sweaters to the '31 Colts. The S. M. U. College of the Air is likewise active in presenting weekly programs over radio station KRLD. Paul Lindsey is the master of ceremonies for all of these entertainments.

After chapel seems the appropriate time to make and break dates. Incidentally, it provides an opportunity for students to become quite chummy with each other as may be seen by such familiar scenes in front of the Administration Building. Even Professors Hauhart, Fleck and Foscue take time to pose after the morning services.

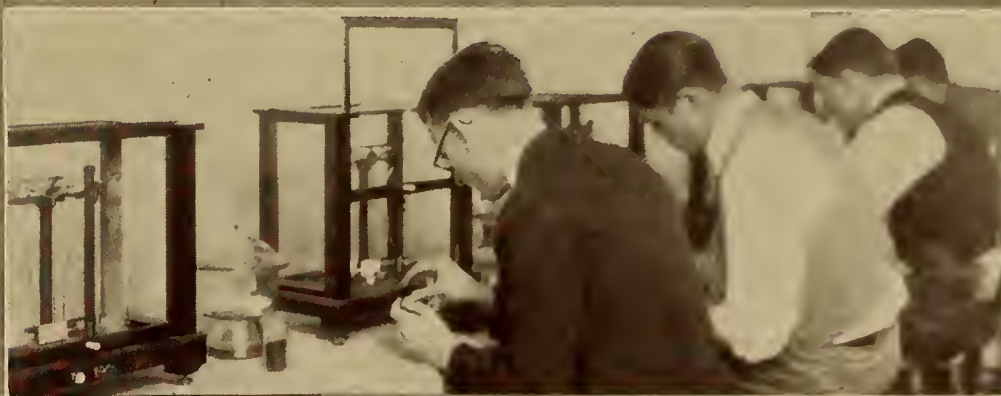

A precious fifteen minutes, before eleven o'clock classes, every Wednesday and Saturday, is spent devouring news contained in THE SEMI-WEEKLY CAMPUS. Billy Arthur has apparently gone "into the air" at the hands of Dick Ivey over some bit of news. Walter Moore, the editor, casts an approving glance at the product of his labors.

The Glee Club annually makes a concert tour of various cities in Texas. Cities visited included Wichita Falls, Chillicothe, Quanah, Childress, Clarendon, White Deer, Amarillo and others. The Choral Club takes a prominent part in activities of the School of Music. The nautical atmosphere in the picture is reminiscent of "Pinafore."

The School of Engineering has made rapid advancement in the past few years with the addition of a building and new laboratory equipment. Engineers must face long, tedious hours in the laboratory during their months in school. It is little wonder that they are anxious for the months to come when they will be engaged in field work.

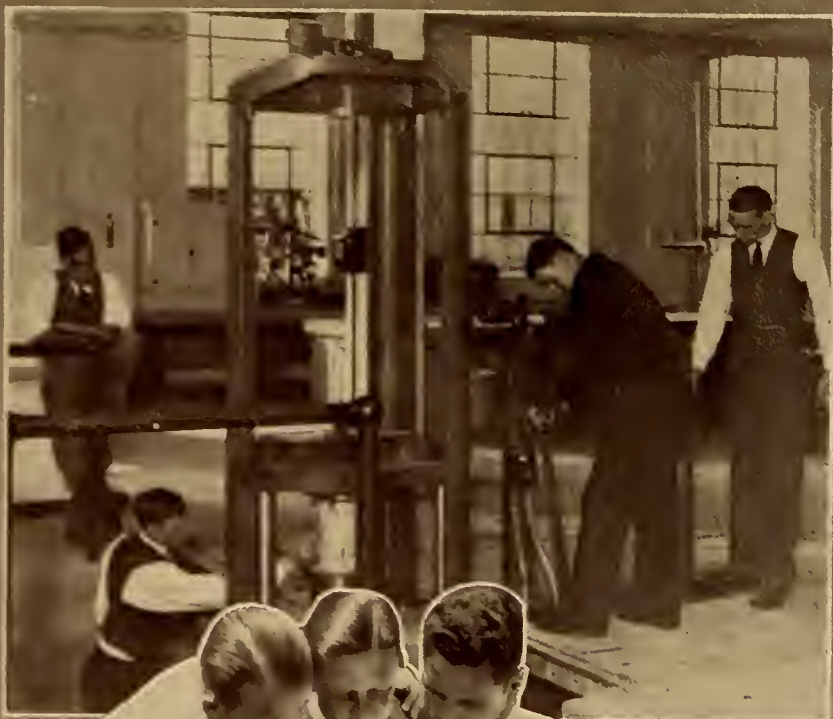

Everyone takes to the outdoors with the approach of Spring. The chemistry class emerges from the laboratory. Archery replaces the more strenuous game of basketball. Picnics come into prominence as a social activity. Sam Hyman makes his appearance to guard against speeding. Eds and co-eds have the usual springtime inclinations.

One of the principal events of the second semester is the annual S. M. U. Relays. Universities and colleges from all parts of the nation take their place in a fast field of competition. Baseball takes the lead in sports for gym classes and intra-mural combats. It is the main bone of contention between the fraternities and campus groups.

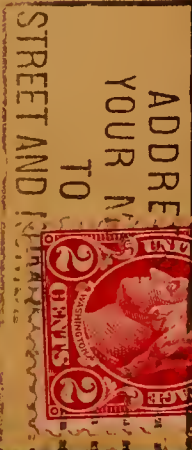

The third annual observance of Founders' Day was celebrated on the 24th of March. Dignitaries of both Church and University took part in the celebration. The program included convocation exercises, with Marvin L. Graves, of Houston, delivering the principal address, a tree ceremonial, a banquet, and a presentation of "The Messiah."

Many improvements have marked the advancement of S. M. U. during 1929-1930. Among these and perhaps the most important, was the razing of the street car station and the paving and widening of Hillcrest Avenue. In addition many trees were planted under the direction of Dr. Schuessler to enhance the beauty of the campus.

Dear Fellow Student:

In my attempt to please you with an interesting and beautiful Rotunda, certain articles therein have met with the disapproval of the administration.

My degree will be withheld until all of the following pages have been returned to President Selecman. These are pages 307 through 315, page 333, and page 337.

Surely you will appreciate the gravity of my situation and co-operate with me to the fullest extent. Please clip the pages and mail them to

The baseball season opened with larger crowds attending the games than in any season in the past. An inexperienced Sophomore nine displayed a brilliant brand of baseball which aroused much interest in local sport circles. Ill luck, however, has remained with the Mustangs up to the present date, with sixteen defeats chalked up against them.

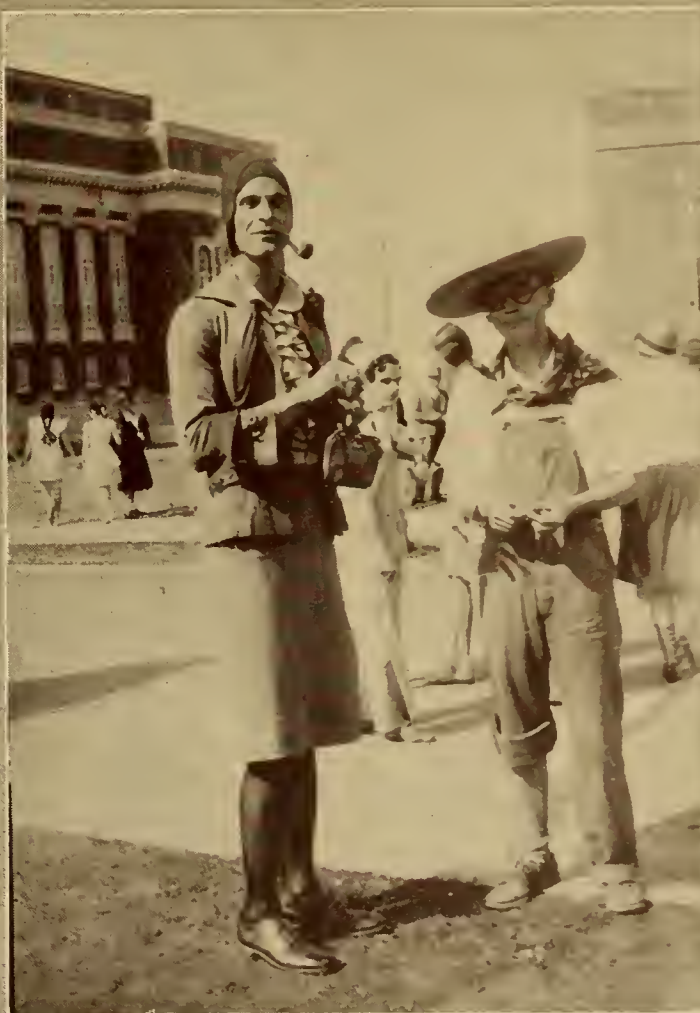

Intra-mural track held much interest in the field of fraternity competition. A greater number of contestants tried for honors than in any previous season. The meet was characterized by the oddities of dress. Some of the players worked in track suits, some of them in bathing suits, some in overalls, and others in any apparel available at the time.

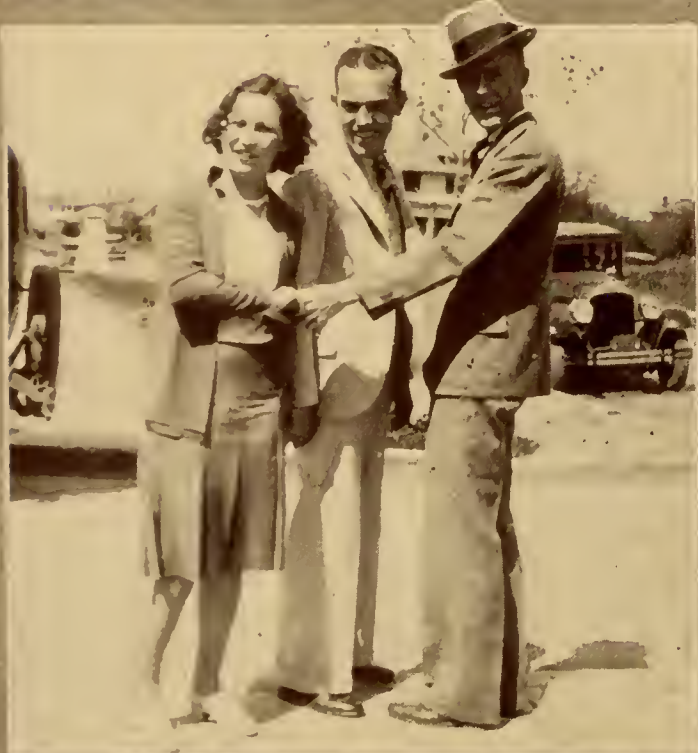

Pikers' Day is celebrated by the graduating Seniors on some day agreed upon by the class members. All the seniors dress in costumes that would turn time back to the days of their childhood. Each and every one cuts classes, and the parade in the morning is almost certain to break up any other classes that are being conducted at that time.

The program for Pikers' Day consisted of a parade in the early hours of the morning, a chapel program in which various Seniors impersonated members of the faculty and administration in speech and actions, and last of all, a theatre party at a local showhouse, to which they were not so cordially invited by the management of the chosen theatre.

Commencement marks the end of the school year. Senior Recognition Day was held this year on the first of May, the traditional daisy chain being borne by picked members of the Junior Class. At Commencement time students bid a last farewell to their classmates until the following fall, or until they return to the University as ex-students.

THE chief aim of the Board of Control of Religious Activities for this year was to foster cooperation between the various student religious activities. Less emphasis was placed on organizational features and more attention given to vitalizing religion in the lives of students.

The Board has been of great value to the University this year in the arrangement of interesting and diversified chapel programs. Under the supervision of Dr. Dickenson, religious programs were given in chapel every Wednesday. Men prominent in religious circles as well as in the business world, were invited to speak on subjects vital to the student body.

Dr. Robert E. Dickenson, assisted by Ruby McKelvey, and Walter N. Vernon, sought to make the office of Religious Activities a "clearing house" for all the religious organizations on the campus, including the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., the Earl Moreland Committee, the Pre-Theolog Association, the Christian Service Forum, the Student-Faculty Revival Committee, and the Student Department of the Highland Park Methodist Church. There was encouraging evidence of unity in the activities of these groups during the year.

A MEETING OF THE MOTHERS' CLUB

The Mothers' Club

ORGANIZED MARCH 24, 1926

THE Mothers' Club of S. M. U. assists in promoting educational, physical, spiritual and social life of the University, and has for its goal one thousand member mothers, alumni, and patrons. Some of the more important activities of the year have been the addition of more than six hundred dollars to the student loan fund with the granting of seven applications; numerous luncheons to raise money for the student loan fund; donations to the Kill Kare Carnival, pep rallies, and various eleemosynary institutions.

THE TREE PLANTING CEREMONY

Ex-Students' Home Coming

THE Ex-Students' Association of Southern Methodist University sponsors two outstanding events on the campus annually. These are Home Coming Day and the Annual Banquet of exes.

Home Coming Day was celebrated this year on November 16th, the date of the Baylor-S. M. U. football game. A program was given in McFarlin Auditorium at ten o'clock with Jordan Ownby delivering the principal address. The program was further diversified with musical numbers.

At eleven-thirty o'clock, all of the students and ex-students gathered for the annual Tree Planting Ceremony. A large number of trees were donated by the Board of Directors of the Association and were planted on various parts of the campus.

The Business Manager of Athletics cooperated with the Association by reserving a large section of seats in the stadium. The exes had the privilege of seeing the Baylor Bears receive a sound drubbing at the hands of the Mustangs.

The Banquet is held during Commencement in June. At this time new officers are elected for the ensuing year, and the membership of the new Board of Directors is announced. Any other business to come before the Association is taken up.

The Banquet is served in Atkins Hall at an early hour in order that all will have the privilege of witnessing the annual Shakespearian play given by the Arden Club under the direction of Miss Mary McCord.

THE PROCESSION FROM MCFARLIN AUDITORIUM

Founders' Day

FOUNDERS' DAY has come to be one of the outstanding events of the school year, both through the importance of the day which it commemorates and through the emphasis which is placed upon it. The twenty-fourth of March is the anniversary of the opening of McFarlin Memorial Auditorium as well as the official date of the founding of Southern Methodist University.

The program opened with Convocation Exercises in McFarlin Auditorium. President Selecman presided over the meeting with Marvin L. Graves, M. D., LL. D., of Houston, Texas, delivering the principal address of the morning. Musical numbers included a prelude by Mrs. J. H. Cassidy, Professor of Organ; a solo by Mrs. J. Roscoe Golden, Instructor in Voice; a chorus by the University Men's Glee Club; also several numbers by the University Choir under the direction of J. Abner Sage with Charles Kiker as accompanist. Serfs of Cycen Fjodr acted as ushers for the ceremony.

The Tree Ceremonial was held at two-thirty o'clock near Snider Hall. Approximately fifteen hundred dollars worth of trees were donated to the University by friends and the faculty. A portion of the trees were planted in a grove which was dedicated to President Selecman, hereafter to be known as "Selecman Grove."

The annual dinner in honor of the Founders was held in the dining room of Virginia Hall at six-thirty o'clock with a very large crowd in attendance. A presentation of Handel's "Messiah" by the University Choir brought the third annual observance of Founder's Day to a close.

Debate

DEBATING this year has been made doubly successful with the institution of non-decision debates. Open forum style of debate has been growing in popularity in past years, and the University has recognized its merits during the past season. The following embraces the subjects used by the Varsity Debaters:

QUESTION: "Resolved, That Government Ownership and Operation of Our Water-Power Resources Will Safeguard Public Welfare More Effectively Than Private Ownership and Operation Under Government Regulation."

QUESTION: "Resolved, That the Nations Should Adopt a Plan of Complete Disarmament, Excepting Such Forces as are Needed for Police Forces."

QUESTION: "Resolved, That the Present Extent of Advertising Is to be Deplored."

THE play season opened with George Kelly's "The Show Off" on December 13th and 14th. Miss McCord directed this clever representation of middle-class American home life, and the following students formed the cast:

CLARA - - - -	Pauline Stevenson	JOE FISHER - - - -	William Shapard
MRS. FISHER - - - -	Madge Hauger	AUBREY PIPER - - - -	Emory Buckner
AMY - - - -	Doris Dillard Mayer	MR. GILL - - - -	Martin Pickett
FRANK HYLAND - - - -	Don Culbertson	MR. ROGERS - - - -	Glen McDaniel
MR. FISHER - - - -	John Davenport

The second play was "Caste" by T. W. Robertson, presented January 10th and 11th. This performance received one of the most enthusiastic receptions of recent years. The Arden Club production followed closely the original production at the Prince of Wales Theatre in London, 1867. David Russell directed the following cast:

HONORABLE GEORGE D'ALROY - - - -	Artemas Roberts	DIXON - - - -	William Shapard
CAPTAIN HAWTREE - - - -	Glen McDaniel	MARQUISE DE ST. MAUR - - - -	Katherine Rike
ECCLES - - - -	John Davenport	ESTHER ECCLES - - - -	Mabel Foxler
SAM ECCLES - - - -	Norris Creath	POLLY ECCLES - - - -	Eloise Eubank

The third performance of the year was a delightful comedy of modern Spanish life. It was "The Lady from Alfaqueque" by Serafin and Joaquin Quintero. Its delightful picture of the provincial characters, its poetic atmosphere, and its unusual plot made a most enjoyable evening. The play was presented on March 21st and 22nd under the direction of David Russell, with the following cast:

FERNANDITA - - - -	Lora B. Boorman	DON PASQUAL - - - -	Emory Buckner
BLANCA - - - -	Janet Andrews	FELIPE RIVAS - - - -	William Shapard
ADORACION - - - -	Pauline Stevenson	NICHOLAS - - - -	Artemas Roberts

The Mustang Band presented its annual mid-winter concerts during February. Cities visited included Weatherford, Breckenridge, Big Spring, Eastland, San Angelo, Mineral Wells, Sweetwater, Midland, Coleman, and Cisco.

Perhaps the greatest work of the Band during the past year was the support it gave to athletics. The Band accompanied the squad to Lincoln, Nebraska, College Station, and Ft. Worth. Next year the Band will go to Annapolis, Md., for the game with the U.S.N.A., and to South Bend for the game with Notre Dame.

The "M" Book

STAFF

EUGENE SLATER	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Editor
TILLMAN EUBANK	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	-	Business Manager

THE "M" Book made its first appearance on the campus last fall. The book was designed primarily to assist Freshmen and new students, that they might become better acquainted with Dallas and the traditions of Southern Methodist University. It has also been a valuable guide to them in presenting the rules and regulations of the University.

The publication was divided into seven distinct sections, each filled with interesting information and each of great value to students. The first section contained a University calendar, welcome messages by Dr. Selecman and the President of the Student Association, G. Hawkins Golden, a short history of S. M. U., and a list of Department heads. Section two was devoted to miscellaneous information to undergraduates, supplied by Dean Zumbrun. A complete list of campus organizations was contained in section three. Section four dealt with official publications, section five expounded traditions, section six analyzed the Athletic Department, and a diary space was provided in the closing section.

The "M" Books were distributed to the students soon after the opening of school. Some fifteen hundred copies comprised the gift of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. to the student body.

The publication was made possible through the efforts and cooperation of Mr. Layton W. Bailey, Business Manager of the University; Mr. A. C. Zumbrun, Dean of Men; Mr. S. H. Moore, Chairman of the Publications Committee; Mr. Joe Brown Love, President of the Y. M. C. A.; and Miss Helen Spong, President of the Y. W. C. A.

The 1930 Rotunda

THIS volume is a tribute to the efforts of an industrious staff combined with the hearty cooperation of our photographer, printer and engraver. Many changes have been made within its covers as compared with all preceding volumes. It has been our aim to produce a Rotunda that will far excel any publication in the Southwest, and one that will truly represent the progressive spirit of Southern Methodist University.

The Annual has been produced at an approximate cost of thirteen thousand dollars. This creates a new budget figure for future staffs, and the increased expenditure involves great improvement in quality, workmanship and general make-up.

We have based the theme of the book on an ancient Persian poem "The Kasidah," by Haji Abdu El-Yezdi. It is the story of a traveller going through life, reminiscing over philosophy and events in all walks of human existence. The thoughts and ideas are symbolical of the trend of modern youth as it wends its way through the University. We wish to call your attention to the authenticity of design and color, and to the great care exercised in preparing the art work.

We are very much indebted to Mr. Howell, of the Texas Publication House, and to Mr. R. M. Allen and Miss Ladelle Rice, of the Service Engraving Company, for their invaluable assistance. We wish also to express our appreciation to Mr. John Henderson of Browne and Browne Studios, for his contribution of artistic photography. In conclusion, we wish to thank the students for their cooperation, and many others, too numerous to mention, who have contributed to this volume.

The Semi-Weekly Campus

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY'S official student newspaper was founded in 1915. It was then known as THE S. M. U. TIMES and was published weekly. Later it was re-named THE CAMPUS and in 1925, it was made a semi-weekly publication, appearing every Wednesday and Saturday.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY CAMPUS covers all events of the school year in each of its several departments. It has been the policy of the reportorial staff to bring to the student body any important and timely event in the University. The editorial staff presents an unbiased opinion of University problems as they effect S. M. U. It supports those enterprises which it deems worthy, and discourages any unfavorable movement.

The interests of journalism have been kept alive through the organization of the Fourth Estate, which is composed of members of the staff. The honorary journalism fraternity for men, Alpha Delta Epsilon, and the honorary fraternity for women, Sigma Phi, have also done a great amount of work in behalf of THE CAMPUS.

Walter Moore and Powell Gibson have controlled the destinies of THE SEMI-WEEKLY CAMPUS during the past year, and have been aided in their work by Prof. A. F. Henning, faculty advisor.

Next year, THE SEMI-WEEKLY CAMPUS, together with The Rotunda, will be a corporate enterprise. The charter is now in the hands of proper authorities, pending issuance on June 1, 1930. The corporation provides for an all-time Business Manager to handle the affairs of both publications, thus eliminating the student managers and leaving only the associate editors to be elected by the student body.

This year marked the publication of the sixth volume of the SOUTHWEST REVIEW at Southern Methodist University, the preceding nine volumes having been issued from the University of Texas, where the magazine was called the TEXAS REVIEW. The REVIEW is published quarterly by the University.

In its fifteenth volume, the REVIEW has very definitely allied itself with the new renaissance occurring in Southwestern art, literature, and music. This renaissance has found its chief organ of expression in the magazine. Among Southwestern writers whose work is of national repute and whom the REVIEW has published this year, are Witter Bynner, Mary Austin, Stanley Vestal, Isabel Campbell, J. Frank Dobie, Howard Mumford Jones, and Philip Stevenson. In addition to these, many prominent young writers have been printed in the REVIEW.

The increased prestige of the magazine has become apparent in the frequent laudatory comments contained in Eastern reviews. It was mentioned in the past year by SCRIBNER'S as being one of the "two liveliest magazines in the South."

It is ranked along with such magazines as SCRIBNER'S, THE BOOKMAN, FORUM, and many more magazines that have won nation-wide repute as well as sectional recognition. The REVIEW does not attempt to commercialize its interests. It is made possible by the interest of some forty well known men in whom is manifested a spirit of advancement for literature, art and science as it effects the Southwest.

SENIOR HONORARY SOCIETY

Organized at

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY, 1922

THE order of the Knights of Cycen Fjodr is composed of ten men from the Senior and Graduate Classes who are selected by the graduating members to carry on the work of the organization. One freshman is selected by each knight to act in the capacity of a serf.

The purpose of the organization is to work secretly and persistently on problems vital to the student body and in behalf of their interests. This year, the organization sponsored a concert of the Mustang Band. The proceeds were turned over to a special uniform fund. Definite steps were also taken to alter the general attitude of the student body toward chapel attendance.

HONORARY SENIOR ORGANIZATION

Founded at

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

Colors: Red and Blue

DECIMA is composed of ten girls selected from the Senior Class. The organization strives to solve some important problem of the student body each year, and is constantly looking toward the welfare and betterment of the University.

Their work this year involved a plan whereby ambitious students would not be permitted to engage in an excessive amount of extra-curricular activities. Outside activities would be governed by a system of point tabulation. The plan was submitted to the Student Council, but it has not yet been incorporated in student laws.

THE Y. M. C. A. is a part of the National Association of Christian Associations and of the World Christian Student Movement. Its purpose is to serve the men of the University in every possible way. The "Y" provides an outlet for Christian service in all forms of activity on the campus.

The "Y" has accepted as a part of its responsibility and opportunity the task of helping each student to become a more vital part of his campus and a better citizen of his world by helping him to develop every phase of his being through normal constructive activity and social relationships. The desire of the "Y" is not that it might be an organization set apart and alone but rather that it might be a movement permeating all life on the campus, a tie that might bind all together in a spirit of brotherhood and respect and make possible a real unity within the University rather than a mere collection of groups. It is then toward the final end of making possible a more complete life in the individual and a more Christian social life on the campus to which the program of the "Y" is dedicated.

Meetings of the Y. M. C. A. have been held semi-monthly throughout the year together with two formal meetings held at the Dallas Y. M. C. A. Several of the more important activities of the year were the Freshmen Reception, Kill Kare Carnival, a Barn Party, and a Christmas Tree.

THE Y. W. C. A. is a part of the national organization of Christian Associations and of the World Christian Student Movement. Its purpose is to serve the women of the University in every possible way, and to provide for them an outlet for religious activities. The Y. W. C. A. offers to the students an adequate social life, a broadened intellectual outlook, a dynamic Christian attitude, and an opportunity for expression through service.

The Y. W. C. A. maintains a comfortable room in Dallas Hall where women students may rest and study. Varied recreation may also be secured in this room. It also maintains a free check room in Dallas Hall.

The Y. W. C. A. works in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A. in the support of a number of traditional events on the campus. The Kill Kare Carnival was held on September 30, and everyone enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. A barn party and Easter egg hunt were also important events of the year.

The "Y" worked in connection with the Religious Activities Board in making possible the success of Revival Week. It also gave valuable assistance in the Earl Moreland Campaign.

Women's Pan Hellenic

THE Pan Hellenic Association of Southern Methodist University is composed of three delegates from each chapter of national fraternities represented on the campus and such locals as it is seen fit to admit. The purpose of the organization is to function as a governing board in matters that concern the member organizations in relation to the University and to each other.

The officers of Pan Hellenic are selected from the various sororities in rotation and serve for a period of one year. A scholarship committee is appointed by the president at the first regular meeting in each year to consider the applicants for the Women's Pan Hellenic Scholarship Fund and to report their decision to the delegates.

Powder and Patches, an inter-sorority playlet, is given annually under the direction of the organization. The acts this year were written by Walter Moore and John Davenport under the title "Greek Calends." Each sorority presented some phase of student life on the campus or carried off the traditional events during the year. The productions were well received by an appreciative audience. Proceeds derived from this production are turned over to the loan fund.

Pan Hellenic gave a reception this year at the Dallas Country Club, May 6th, in honor of faculty members. This is an annual affair of the organization, having for its purpose the encouragement of more amicable relations between University officials and sorority members.

Men's Pan Hellenic

MEN'S Pan Hellenic is composed of the various social college fraternities at Southern Methodist University which have been recognized by the Correlation Committee. Any fraternity coming under the above classification is eligible for membership.

The chief objective of Men's Pan Hellenic is the regulation of the social Greeks according to uniform rules laid down by the University Correlation Committee. These rules embrace such matters as rushing, scholarship, social activities, housing, and pledging. The organization likewise fosters a spirit of friendly cooperation between the University and each of the various fraternities.

A banquet and party was given by Men's Pan Hellenic at the beginning of the second semester of this year. This social function served to promote a friendly spirit of cooperation between all organizations and should have a permanent place among the social activities of the year.

Drastic changes in the rules and regulations governing social functions sponsored by the Greek organizations were imposed late in February. The Correlation Committee issued rules whereby entertainments by Greek organizations were to be limited in number as well as in extent. They also dealt with such matters as luncheons, parties and guests in the different fraternity houses.

These rules met with no small amount of opposition, and with the cooperation and assistance of Dean Zumbrun, all regulations were reverted to the old order at a joint meeting of both Men's and Women's Pan Hellenic.

We wish to express our sincere admiration and appreciation for the man who has made possible the very brilliant athletic record of Southern Methodist University, who has shaped the destinies of the Mustangs, who has won the hearts of the entire student body.

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY

RAY MORRISON

Coach Morrison received most of his education in Vanderbilt University where he was a star athlete on both gridiron and diamond. The open style of play that he has coached his team to follow has attracted nation-wide attention. His prowess was admirably demonstrated this year in the game between S. M. U. and Nebraska, and in pushing the Mustangs through the season, undefeated.

J. W. ST. CLAIR

Coach St. Clair is a graduate of Baylor University and came to us from North Texas State Teachers College of Denton. During the years at S. M. U., he has turned out basketball teams that placed second in the conference for three consecutive years. During the last two years, he has placed third in conference circles.

JERRY MANN

Jerry Mann was made head baseball coach in 1929 with little experience in the sport. The 1929 season proved very successful for the Mustangs and Jerry was given the credit. The 1930 season has been comparatively unsuccessful thus far due to the lack of experienced lettermen.

RUSSELL MCINTOSH

"Dutch" McIntosh has proved his skill as a line coach this year by turning out the most powerful line in the Southwest Conference. It was also a powerful factor in tying the strong Cornhuskers.

J. H. STEWART

Jimmie Stewart has capably assisted Ray Morrison in football and has acted in the capacity of head track coach for the past few years. He has been largely responsible for the success of the annual S. M. U. Relays.

DR. J. S. MCINTOSH

Dr. McIntosh has turned out better tennis and golf squads this year than in any season of his experience. It is believed that next year's squads will win conference championships.

JOHN DONAHO

As Student Director of intra-mural athletics, Donaho has been responsible for the great success attained during the last three years. His labor has been well directed and has been rewarded by the great numbers participating in the various sports. Bonneau Murphy will succeed Donaho as Director of intra-mural sports next year.

A VAST amount of credit should be given to Dr. R. N. Blackwell, Business Manager of Athletics, for the success of athletics at Southern Methodist University. Through his untiring efforts, S. M. U. now holds a position in the athletic field equal to the leading universities of the nation. Not only has he raised the standing of the University, but he has placed all sports on a sound financial basis.

The Athletic Council is composed of men connected with the University directly and various alumni members. Three student members are selected every year to care for the interests of the student body in general.

It is the duty of the Athletic Council to handle all departments of athletics sponsored by Southern Methodist University. They arrange schedules and provide means for financial backing of any athletic event. It has been through their efforts that such games as the Notre Dame and U. S. Naval Academy contests have been scheduled. The Council has maintained such a high standard in the Southwestern Conference that we now command the respect of all other members.

HOUGHTON OTSTOTT McCULLOUGH PARKER RICKS THREADGILL

Athletic Managers

ATHLETIC Managers are selected by the coach in each sport of the University. The Assistant Manager automatically becomes Manager the following year and is granted a letter for faithful performance of service.

It is the duty of the Managers to assist the coach in every way possible. They take charge of equipment, post notices, and perform many sundry tasks in the interests of the teams. They also make possible the greatest degree of cooperation between athletes and the coaches in each sport.

THE head Yell Leader is selected in spring elections by popular vote of the student body. He is granted the privilege of selecting three capable and experienced assistants to help in the work of keeping up the school spirit.

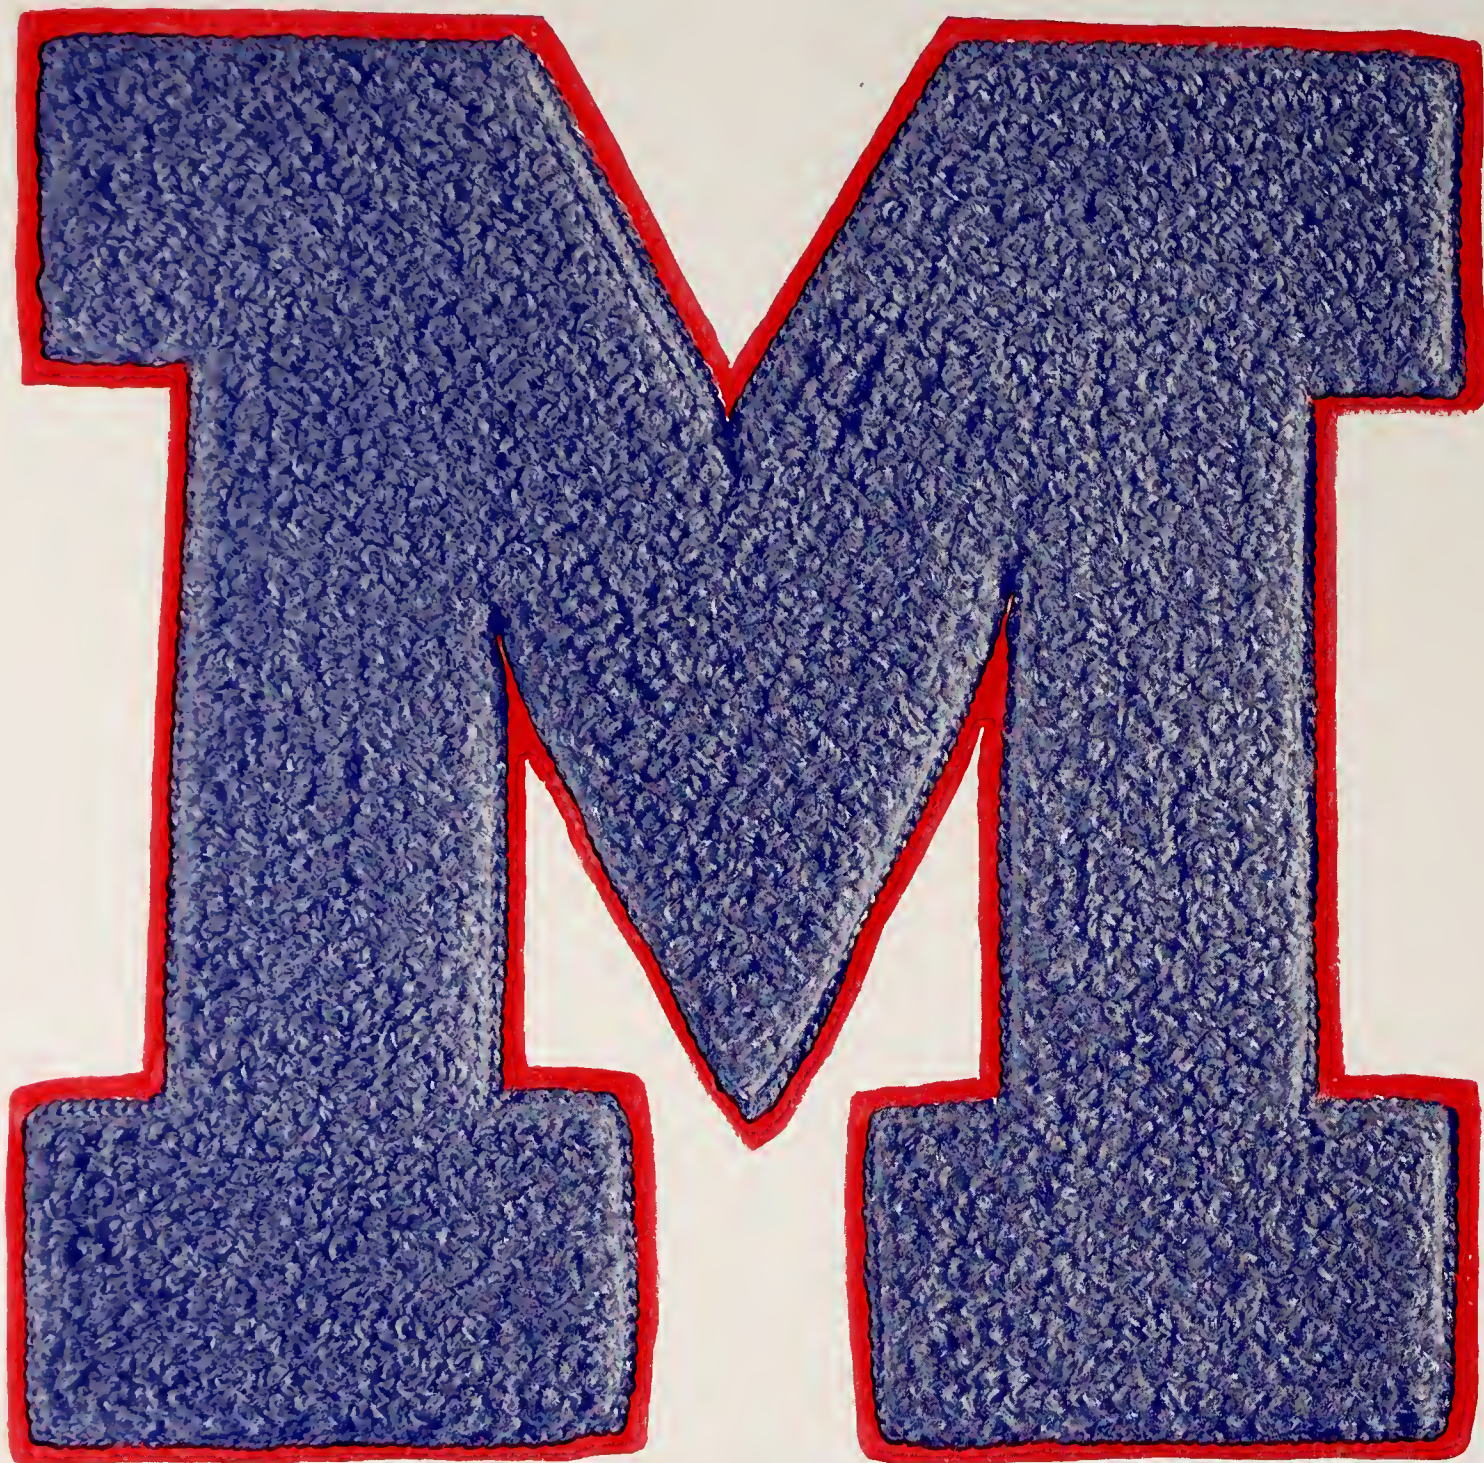

We owe a great amount of gratitude to Willie Wilson for the wonderful spirit which he was able to instill in the hearts of the student body during the past year. He has worked untiringly toward this end, and it has been shown during various athletic contests that the spirit of S.M.U. has far surpassed that of former years. Coach Morrison said that "Willie is the best yell leader S.M.U. has ever had, and this years squad has worked more efficiently than in the past."

Henry Muller and George Martin journeyed to Nebraska with some two hundred and fifty rooters to support the Mustang squad. Their services were invaluable to the team even though the cheering section was limited in numbers. The entire squad was on hand for most of the out-of-town games and never failed in the home games.

Through the labors of the yell leaders, Dallas witnessed the longest parade S. M. U. has ever had on November 2nd, the day of the S. M. U.-Texas game. Downtown traffic was tied up for more than an hour while the students made merry. The yell leaders also sponsored a huge bonfire on the eve of this game.

Charles Bowman will assume the duties of head Yell Leader next year.

MAJOR SPORTS

Football Season 1929

THE year 1929 saw the Southern Methodist University Mustangs do what was termed impossible in gridiron circles in both their own conference and in the prominent inter-sectional tilts in which they engaged when they tied the powerful Nebraska Cornhusker machine, swamped the Southern Gentlemen from Ole Mississippi, and finished second in the Southwest Conference without suffering a single defeat. For the first time in two seasons, the Mustangs were rated as the under-dogs in current conference competition and it was questioned whether they would develop sufficient strength to keep out of the cellar position. In those first days of the 1929 season, Baylor University, Texas A. & M., and T. C. U. were touted as the contenders for the conference championship, while the Mustangs were given only a fighting chance to stay out of the cellar. Before the end of the season came around, two of the championship contenders had dropped down into the second division, Texas University had made a strong bid for the title and the Mustangs only missed their third Southwest Conference championship by a narrow margin.

When Coach Ray Morrison called his Red and Blue warriors together early in September, only six letter men from last year's squad reported to him. The remainder of the team had to be built from Sophomore material, which, as later results showed, had all the fight and ability of former Mustang stars. Due to this fact, Morrison encountered the most serious and persistent problem of his 1929 season—the lack of sufficient reserve material to relieve his first string players. Adequate proof of the success of this Sophomore machine is furnished by the fact that Knute Rockne, out of all the football teams of any consequence in the country, selected the Southern Methodist Mustangs to oppose the Notre Dame squad at the dedication of their new stadium at South Bend, Indiana, October 4th, and that the United States Naval Academy set aside one week in the height of its season to meet the galloping Mustangs from the plains of Texas.

Contrary to opinion, the practice games at the first of the season showed that Coach Morrison was not driving his men for the Nebraska clash which came as the third game of the season. Before a crowd of seven thousand fans, the Mustangs took a 13-3 victory over the North Texas Teachers College Eagles. Denton scored a field goal in the first half of the game and held this three-point lead up to the last quarter when the Mustangs succeeded in playing together long enough to score two touchdowns and a field goal, thus warding off a miserable defeat. The game brought out the fact that the Pony forward wall was not up to its usual stride in smearing opponent's plays and in holding for a passing attack.

The following week, Howard Payne College came up from Brownwood determined to defeat the Mustangs for the first time since S. M. U.'s rise to prominence in the Southwest. They worked so diligently toward this purpose that the best the Red and Blue warriors could do was to send them back with the equal end of a 13-13 score. Little improvement was shown by the Ponies in either line play or their characteristic passing game.

It remained for the Southern Methodist-Nebraska game to bring out the true merit of the Mustangs and to place them as a definite bidder for the current Southwest Conference championship. With a team that had but two practice games and no real competition and which could be regarded, at best, as only a mediocre aggregation, Coach Morrison and thirty players, accompanied by the Mustang Band and two hundred and fifty rooters entrained for Lincoln, Nebraska, to meet the powerful Husker team. Two old Southwest Conference rivals, Ray Morrison and Dana X. Bible, were pitted against each other. The Southwest Conference cast dubious eyes on the Red and Blue gridsters who were to represent S. M. U. in one of the most important inter-sectional games of the year. Strange to say, Nebraska respected the prowess of the Mustangs more than did the local fans.

From the starting whistle to the final shot, the game was a gruelling battle in which the determined Mustang warriors turned back assault after assault of Bible's shock troops. Dazzling end runs and slashing line plays were run off in rapid succession by each team. The ball remained for the most part of the game in the middle of the field, neither team being able to push within scoring distance. Bible substituted one team after another in an effort to wear down the Mustang first-stringers, who played the entire game with but two substitutions, but was never able to pierce the Red and Blue line. One play, an attempted sixty-five-yard pass from Gilbert to Davidson, almost spelled victory for the Mustangs in the closing minutes of the game, but the pass was a few inches long and went through the fleet Pony half-back's fingers.

With the praises of the Southwest Conference and the nation ringing in their ears for the gallant fight they displayed in the game, the Mustangs returned home with the satisfaction of knowing that they had maintained the honor of their school and the Southwest in foreign football sections. The pessimists of the conference with one accord changed their tactics and expressed appreciation of the team which had, with little grooming and without pointing, battled the Nebraska Cornhuskers to a o-o deadlock.

The Ponies reverted to their early season playing the following Saturday when they met the Austin College Kangaroos at Ownby Oval, but managed to take the big end of a 16-0 decision in a drab and uninteresting exhibition of football. The Mustangs were given only a day off on their return from Lincoln to allow them to recuperate from the battering they had received from the Huskers and consequently were not in the best of condition.

From out of the Old South came the Southern Gentlemen from Ole Mississippi on the following Saturday to test the Ponies in their second and last inter-sectional game of the season at Fair Park Stadium. Word had passed around in local sport circles that Morrison at last was going to open up the bag of tricks that he had so carefully kept concealed in the first part of the season. Consequently, Fair Park Stadium was filled with fans who wanted to see the 1929 Mustang edition in full action.

Coach Morrison, as had been prophesied, opened his bag of tricks, but the surprises he exhibited were not the ones contemplated by the spectators. The Red and Blue team which took the field that day developed an unusually effective and clock-like running attack that clicked off touchdowns in rapid succession. Weldon Mason, Bruce Kattman and Joe Davidson were largely responsible for the 52 points run up by the Mustangs. The famed aerial attack of the Ponies was not to make its appearance until later in the season. Ole Miss failed to check up a single point.

Next week saw the Mustangs pitted against the Texas Longhorns in what was acclaimed the crucial tilt of the 1929 football season. "Undefeated by Texas since 1922," "Knock Texas out of another championship," were the slogans which circulated around the campus on the eve of the battle. The Longhorns had not forgotten the 6-2 defeat handed them last year by the Ponies and were out for revenge.

The first half of the game saw the Longhorns on the defensive after the Ponies barely escaped being scored on at the kick-off when a Texas back ran through the entire Mustang team with the exception of Mason. The second half witnessed the tide of victory swing over to Texas, and the Methodists were placed on the defensive for the rest of the game. The Pony defense rallied time after time on the Red and Blue twenty-yard line to keep the Longhorns from scoring. The Mustangs missed their chance to score when Vic Saufley dropped a pass on the Texas goal line, and the game ended in a 0-0 deadlock.

The Golden Bears of Baylor University invaded the Mustang corral the next week, determined to knock the Ponies out of the running and to extend their winning streak. In the second quarter, with a strong wind behind his back, Bob Gilbert, Mustang quarter, turned loose the famed aerial offensive of the Methodist's and in less than five minutes time, the Ponies clicked off three touchdowns. The Mustangs settled down to straight football for the remainder of the game and succeeded in scoring a fourth touchdown in the third quarter to cinch the game.

The Southern Methodist warriors were given a much needed rest the following week in preparing to meet the Feathered Tribe from Rice University. Coach Morrison played his first-string team during the first half and the Mustangs succeeded in running up a substantial lead in short order. At the beginning of the third period, Morrison substituted an entirely new team and the remainder of the game was fought on an even basis, with the Ponies carrying off the long end of a 34-0 score.

With the conference championship hinging on the outcome of the battle, S. M. U. met T. C. U. at Fort Worth and fought the pennant winners to a 7-7 tie. The aerial game of the Mustangs was handicapped by a strong wind, and they were forced to rely chiefly on their running offense. Mason accounted for his team-mates' tally with a spectacular twenty-five yard run in which he sprinted and side-stepped through the entire Horned Frog team. The Methodists added an unique laurel to their collection in being the first team to stop the Frog flash, Cy Leland.

A determined Purple and White rally in the closing minutes of the game enabled T. C. U. to score a touchdown and with the addition of the point after touchdown, the game ended in a 7-7 deadlock. The Mustangs, with a Sophomore team, had finished in second place without losing a game during the entire season.

ALL-CONFERENCE

Captain "Choc" Sanders was placed by the majority of Southwest scribes on their mythical elevens. He played a sterling game of football at guard and his ability as a leader was invaluable to the entire team.

Marion "Scrap Iron" Hammon was the second Mustang linesman to be honored as an All-Conference selection. Hammon was undoubtedly one of the main cogs in the Pony forward wall and stimulated the determined fight displayed by his fellow-linesmen.

Weldon "Speedy" Mason was the only Sophomore player placed on the All-Conference selections. Mason was a marked man from the first of the season, but in spite of this fact, he proved a consistent ground gainer in every game he played.

ALL-AMERICAN

Southern Methodist's ability to produce All-American football players was further evidenced this year by the selection of Marion Hammon on the first All-American team of the United Press. In addition, he was given honorable mention on several other All-National teams. Appreciation for his ability and sportsmanship was expressed by his team-mates in naming him captain for 1930.

Hammon gained most of his recognition with straight football ability. He was not a flash nor an outstanding player in any one game. He played a consistent game throughout the year and was able to be at the bottom of every possible play. Hammon was truly All-American material.

1930 Prospects

THE Mustangs face one of the hardest schedules ever arranged by any Southwest Conference eleven, and the most important in any season for S. M. U. Dallas will have the privilege of witnessing an important inter-sectional tilt when Indiana University meets the Ponies at Fair Park Stadium. Indiana has always held an important place in Big Ten football circles, and it is expected to be one of the hardest fought contests of the coming year. The Notre Dame game at South Bend, Indiana, carries more weight than any other in view of the fact that the Irish squad has held the limelight in football since the time of the famous "Four Horsemen." The Navy game promises to be a harder fought battle than was the Army game of 1928. It will also give Coach Morrison the opportunity once more of demonstrating his prowess to the conventional East.

The Mustangs will feel the loss of Sanders and Saufley who will be lost to the 1930 squad by graduation. Hammon is expected to fill "Choc's" shoes, and Powell should be able to hold down center. All other regular squad members will return.

COACH J. W. ST. CLAIR

An Appreciation

WE TAKE this opportunity to express our appreciation of Coach St. Clair. Words can not express his value to the University, not only in the athletic field, but also as a friend of all students in the University. He has consistently demonstrated his prowess as a basketball coach by placing S. M. U. second in the Conference for three years preceding the past two seasons and has placed third in the remainder of his service. He is constantly working for the welfare of the University and always for its advancement.

THE MUSTANG Basketeers came through a very successful season to place third in the Southwest Conference with the University of Arkansas topping the list and Texas University placing second. Coach St. Clair turned all his efforts to the development of a wealth of Sophomore material, and with the leadership of Captain Brooks, soon groomed the letter men and Sophomores into a fast quintet.

The Pre-Season opened against the Denton Normal Eagles on December 12. Denton crushed the Ponies in the last quarters of the game by a baffling delayed offense. The final count was 26-14. The following week, the Red and Blue cagers lost two practice games. The first was played on the home court of the Southeastern Oklahoma State Teachers and S. M. U. came off with the short end of a 30-17 score. The Oklahoma Savages came to the home court on the following night and handed Coach St. Clair's basketeers a second defeat to the tune of 42-32.

In the first of a two-game series with Oklahoma University, the Ponies displayed a brilliant brand of ball, but were nosed out by a 24-19 score. Chaddick and Hammon played stellar games for the home team while Myers carried off high point honors for the Sooners. The second game brought forth a new star for S. M. U. in Bill Skeeters. It was his first appearance on the court and Coach St. Clair was pleased with his performance. The game ended with the Sooners copping a 24-22 victory.

A technical foul in the

closing minutes of play cost the Ponies an 18-17 defeat at the hands of the Denton Teachers. This game completed the practice schedule for the Mustangs. The season was much more successful than the scores would indicate. Coach St. Clair had ample opportunity to find weak spots in his quintet and to groom them for a gruelling conference race.

The first game on the Conference Schedule was played at College Station. The Aggies were primed to avenge the defeat handed them in football, and after a hard struggle, they took the honors by a 23-20 count. The Ponies displayed a fine brand of basketball to keep the score tied at many stages of the game. Brooks continued his steady game to be the most consistent player for S. M. U.

The following night found St. Clair's netters pitting their endurance against Rice to beat them by a 41-40 score. It was a nerve-racking contest from start to finish. Rhea Williams was high point man for the Red and Blue warriors with eleven counts, while R. Hart scored sixteen points for the Feathered tribe to win honors for the game.

S. M. U. helped the Owls keep their vow not to shave until they won two games, by defeating them in the Hilltop gym to the tune of 34-28. The Ponies were trailing the Owls at the half by five points. Williams and Hart again played a stellar game for their respective teams and tied for high point honors. Captain Brooks took second place with Jake Reynolds a close third.

On January 21st, the Mustangs were barely able to eke out a 24-22 victory from the Golden Bears at Waco. The game was interesting from start to finish and the local basketeers showed some clever floor work.

The conference standing was lowered somewhat on the following week end when the Mustangs lost to Texas A. & M., 24-19. The half ended with S. M. U. leading 12-14, but the brilliant playing of Hoke for the Aggies soon put the Farmers in a lead that could not be overcome. Bill Skeeters played a consistent game and Jake Reynolds proved his ability at the center position.

The Ponies upset the dope in the following week by trouncing the Longhorns in the most thrilling encounter of the year. Skeeters in the overtime period made two long shots to give the Mustangs a four-point lead and Captain Brooks added another foul to cinch the game after Texas had come within one point of a second tie. Ray Johnson stood head and shoulders above everyone in the Red and Blue attack. The game ended with a 25-22 count.

St. Clair's quintet struck a snag at Fayetteville on February 14th and 15th by two defeats at the hands of the Razorbacks. Johnson was the star of the first game which ended with a 27-28 score. Taking an early lead in the second contest, the Razorbacks never stopped, and handed the Mustangs a 44-29 drubbing.

The Ponies took a thrilling overtime game from the Horned Frogs at Fort Worth to the tune of 35-34. T. C. U. came from behind a 13-point lead to tie the score at 31-31 in the regular playing period. Coach Schmidt's warriors made a strong bid for victory in the extra period, but fell short by a single point.

S. M. U. took the second game of the season from Baylor in a closely fought contest. The Ponies barely escaped with a 26-24 victory.

A journey to Texas proved rather disastrous for St. Clair's cagers and the Longhorns gave the Red and Blue a 50-14 trouncing. Not contented with one victory, Cheatham attempted to score another over Kattman and so disqualified both for the last games of the season.

The Mustangs took third place in the conference when they defeated T. C. U. at Dallas by a 25-22 score. Coach St. Clair considered the season a very successful one in view of the fact that only a few letter men served as a nucleus for the inexperienced members of the squad. Prospects for a conference championship next year are quite promising.

FAR more successful seasons have been experienced by Southern Methodist University baseball teams than was experienced by the 1929 squad, but the year could not be called a failure. Gerald Mann, the Ponies' brilliant shortstop of the year before, took over the helm as head coach, relieving Coach Morrison who devoted his entire time to the gridiron sport. The year before had graduated the outstanding stars and left the young and new mentor left-over and sophomore material with which to shape his nine. Taking this into consideration, the little Red Arrow did remarkably well to finish the season with four wins over the Frogs and two victories over the Aggies.

Captain Drye was stamped as the outstanding player and most dangerous batter for the Ponies. He was one of the best receivers in the conference. Other players that showed up well were Conner, outfield; Liles, pitcher and Diffey, pitcher.

Hopes ran high when the Red and Blue machine made a very good record in their practice games but they soon fell with the disastrous twin loss to Baylor. The season rocked along with the Ponies in the cellar most of the time, but with a whirlwind finish, they boosted their percentage mark one rung higher on the ladder.

The season marked the loss of most of the veteran material either by graduation of the members or by their quitting school. It left the Pony coach with the same disadvantage for next year that he had this year—that of developing a completely new team. The freshman material was exceptionally strong and should go a long way in helping Mann with his worries.

1930 Season

Jerry Mann began practice for the 1930 baseball season with only a few former letter men around which to construct a nine capable of competing with other members of the Southwest Conference. To build a team that would be able to dethrone Billy Disch's all-time conference champions is a task for any coach, and a goal yet to be sought in conference competition.

In the first scheduled practice tilt of the season, Diffey was able to hold the Dallas Steers to five hits with the capable assistance of his infield. Kattman, Koontz, and Andrews tied with each other for hitting honors with two each. The game was called at the sixth inning and the score stood 6-4 in favor of the Mustangs.

S. M. U. opened its conference schedule with the Baylor Bruins in a two-game series at Dallas. Both games were closely contested all the way through and both ended with the same score, 10-9 in favor of the Bears. In the first game, Conner, Kattman and Adkisson each took a home run to bring the score within one of a tie. Captain Liles, Wishard and Diffey were on the mound. Koontz chalked up five hits in the series out of nine trips to the plate.

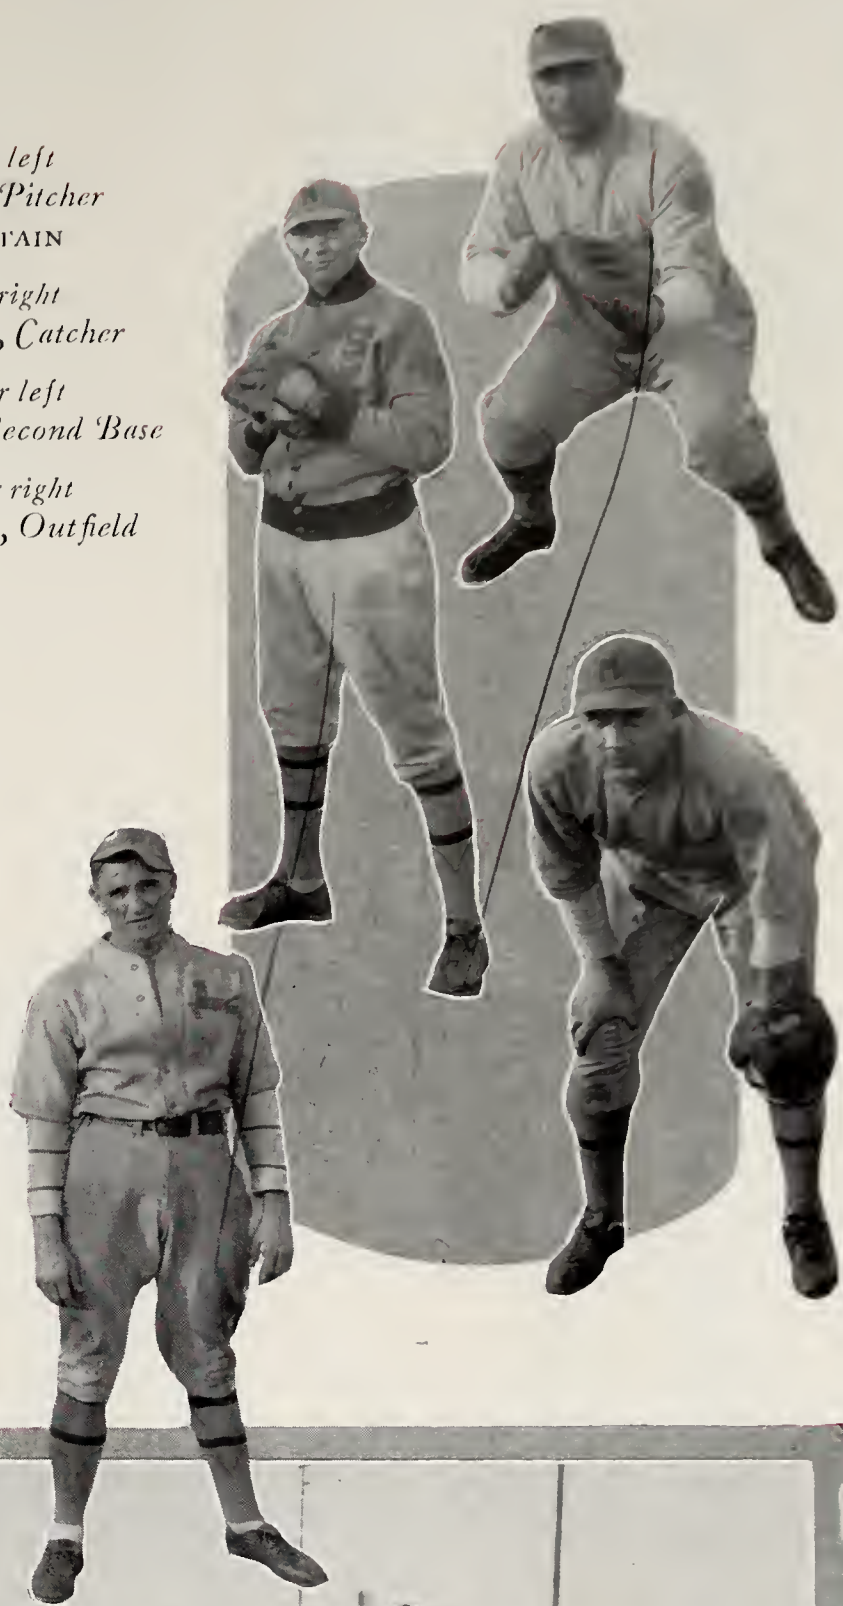

The following week, the Mustangs engaged the Horned Frogs in Dallas for a two-game series. In the first game, they lost to the T. C. U. nine by an 8-3 score. The Ponies took the lead early in the contest, but were unable to hold in the last rounds. Diffey and Adkisson held down the battery positions. A ninth inning rally by the Red and Blue nine in the second game was stopped and the Frogs took a 4-2 victory to sweep the series. Wallin of T. C. U. made the best play of the game in the ninth inning when he completed a double play unassisted, thus dashing the Ponies' hopes to the ground. Pinckard held the Purple and White to six scattered hits.

Jerry's proteges made an unsuccessful trip to South Texas where they engaged the Aggies and Rice Owls in a two-game series each. The Farmers chalked up two more losses against S. M. U., the first game ending 7-6 while the latter score was 7-3. At Houston, Wishard went fourteen innings and allowed only nine scattered hits, only to see the Feathered Tribe walk away with a 4-3 decision in the first game of the series. The second contest was lost by the Ponies in a closely fought pitcher's battle, the game ending 3-2.

The Mustangs split the series with the strong Northwestern nine, marking their first victory of the season. Wishard relieved Liles at the mound in the sixth inning and struck out six batsmen in rapid succession. Johnson went on a batting spree with three hits out of four times at bat. The game ended with a 11-5 victory.

S. M. U. dropped two more games to T. C. U. by the score of 10-8 and 12-6. The first game was closely contested, but the Purple and White squad went rampant on a hitting spree to win the second game by a large margin. Both games were played at Fort Worth.

Texas made a clean sweep of the series at Dallas, going off with the long end of a 10-4 score in the first game and a 16-4 score in the second. Andrews and Gravely led the Pony run-getters with two runs each in the first fracas. Uncle Billy Disch's Longhorns came back strong in the second contest to hand the Mustangs a severe drubbing. Little wonder that the Steers made such a strong bid for the championship.

The inability of the Mustangs to hit in the pinches cost the Ponies two more defeats from the Aggies. Tom Wishard and Diffey went twelve frames in the first game to lose a heartbreaker, 5-4. The second game was lost by a 6-1 score.

At the time The Rotunda goes to press, the Mustangs still have a two-game series with Baylor, Rice and Texas. Jerry Mann was little satisfied with the results of the season, and can attribute the poor record to the lack of experienced players. The Mustangs are bound to make a strong bid for the conference championship in the 1931 Season.

THE 1930 TRACK SQUAD

THE 1929 track team was hard hit by graduation. Eight of the regular men were lost to the team. However, there was some promising material in the Freshman team. Winston Hooper, former All-American miler for the Mustangs, was elected by the Athletic Council as assistant coach, which did much to lessen the burden of head coach, Jimmy Stewart.

The feature of the entire season was the inauguration of the first S. M. U. Relays which attracted the nation's greatest track stars. The publicity given S. M. U. over the successful relays placed the University high in the athletic world.

The season was far from successful, but it marked an interest shown in the cinder path sport assuring S. M. U. a strong track squad in the future. Only four men on the Pony team were able to gather any points in their competition. Crowell, Captain of the Pony team, was one of the most outstanding distance men in the conference. He gathered in more points in the year than any other man on the team. In Hammon, S. M. U. had one of the best javelin men of the nation. He was beaten only once during the entire season, this being in the conference meet. Hammon was also strong in other weights.

Sullivan and Davidson were the other two point-getters on the squad. The Ponies won only two dual meets during the season, defeating Baylor by five points and T. C. U., 74½ to 49. Austin College was also in the T. C. U. meet, scoring 34½ points.

COACHES Jimmy Stewart and Ray Morrison were forced to build a cinder squad around Hackney, Hammon, Sullivan, Crowell and Skeeters, the only letter men to return this year.

The first meet of the year was held at the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth. Coach Stewart sent a ten-man squad to participate. They were: Dashes, Sammy Ellington and Charles Moore; 440-yard run, Woodward; half-mile, J. E. Persons and Sam Fly; mile, Crowell and Hobson; pole vault, Arthur Sullivan; hurdles, Gilbert and Long.

The meet presented a fast field of competition. Cy Leland stepped off the 100-yard dash in 9-6/10 to beat Bracey of Rice. Woodward won first place in the 440 event with a 53.8 record. Sullivan placed second to Bradely of Rice in the pole vault, going over at 12 feet 3 inches. The Mustangs were able to collect a total of 10 points for the meet.

In the Texas Relays, held at Austin on March 28th, S. M. U. was able to secure two second places. Contestants in these relays came from all parts of the country including squads from Big Ten Universities and prominent Universities of the Southwest.

Most of the teams which competed in the Texas Relays came to the Second Annual S. M. U. Relays on the following Saturday. Thanks to Marion Hammon, who won the only first place that S. M. U. was able to secure. He took the javelin event with a toss of 197 feet 6 inches.

the Middle Western schools at the top of the list. Honors in the University class relays were evenly divided between Kansas, Marquette, Butler, Illinois, Northwestern and Missouri. Butler University broke the four-mile relay record for the S. M. U. Relays by lowering the time fourteen seconds. The time for the gruelling race was 18:20:1.

In the first conference meet, S. M. U. journeyed to Waco to meet the Bruins. The Pony squad literally ran away with first place honors, taking seven first places to the Bears' six. Baylor won the meet, however, with a total of 63 points to S. M. U.'s 52.

The Tri-Angular meet at Austin netted Texas 102 points, Baylor 45 points and S. M. U. 17 points. Captain Crowell placed first in the mile run, time 4:38:6 and second in the half-mile. Moore placed fourth in the 100 while Jones finished third in the high hurdle event. Hobson and Rucker placed second and fourth in the two-mile run.

The Farmers took another meet from the Mustangs on Armstrong Field by the count of 92-28. Crowell placed first in the mile while Hammon took first in the javelin event and second in the shot put. Skeeters won the discus event and Sullivan tied with Morris for first honors in the pole vault.

The Ponies won their first dual meet of the season against T. C. U. The total points were S. M. U. 64, T. C. U. 53. The Mustangs took ten first places and set a fast pace for the Horned Frogs.

Coach Stewart's thinly clad came out in the cellar at the conference meet, going off with a total of eight points won by Hammon in the javelin event. Crowell, Skeeters and Woodward were certain point winners, but were forced to return because of studies.

Prospects for the 1931 season are indeed very bright. Several promising Freshmen worked out this season with the Varsity and they are being groomed as certain point-getters for next season.

PREPARING FOR THE MEDLEY RELAY EVENT

Cross Country

SOUTHERN Methodist University experienced an unusually successful cross country season this year, winning three out of four dual meets in the conference and winning fourth place in the conference meet which was held at College Station.

The first cross country meet of the year was with the Texas University Longhorns in Dallas, the Orange and White team winning by a small margin. Persons of S. M. U. placed an easy second.

The Mustangs met the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton in their second dual meet and barely nosed the Eagles out to win by a slight margin. Hobson of S. M. U. placed second.

At Fort Worth, the Mustang cross country team met the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs, beating them with Hobson, Persons and Pfeiffer tying for first place.

At the conference meet at College Station, S. M. U. placed fourth.

With most of the cross country men returning next year, a seasoned team is expected to be contenders for first place in the conference.

Sam Fly is the only member of the Cross Country squad who will graduate this year. Persons, Pfeiffer and Hobson will all be in the running for the 1930 competition. The team will be strengthened by Crowell, an outstanding distance man who won many points for the Mustang Track Squad this year. Clark Calvert is also considered to be an outstanding man on the 1930 edition.

MINOR SPORTS

The 1929 Tennis Season

TENNIS followers at S. M. U. faced a discouraging outlook last spring when the call was made for the 1929 squad. The only veteran of the squad was Gerald Huff, captain and ranking No. 1 man. Huff was playing his last year; as a Sophomore and Junior he had played with such stars as Barr, Estep and Lynn. Claud Boothman, ace of the 1928 Freshman squad, rapidly developed into a nice match player, however, and was followed by Headington, Boyer, McGee and Minor. Probably the outstanding event of the year besides the conference meet was Huff's defeat of Coggeshall, Grinnell ace and ranking player in the United States. The Pony racketeers more than held their own in the dual matches but the prospects were gloomy for the conference meet which was held on the Penick court at Austin.

And rightfully so, for the Texas delegation was headed by none other than Berkeley Bell who later won the national inter-collegiate singles championship. S. M. U. entered only two men, Huff and Boothman. Huff encountered Dunlap, No. 3 Texas man, and went out in the first round. At the same time, Boothman went out at the hands of McDiarmid, T. C. U.'s brilliant player. In the doubles, the Mustang No. 1 team, Huff and Boothman, met McDiarmid and Ewell, T. C. U.'s first team and one of the best doubles combinations in the conference, and went out in the first round. Huff was the only man lost by graduation; Boothman was elected captain for the 1930 season.

The 1930 Tennis Season

TO PREPARE some kind of competition to face what appeared to be and was the strongest team play ever put forth by Southwest Conference schools; to develop that competition out of two letter men and three Sophomores; to prepare S. M. U.'s courts for the annual conference meet held May 15, 16 and 17; these were some of the problems which faced Dr. J. S. McIntosh, head Tennis coach, as he lined up his 1930 campaign.

Dr. McIntosh didn't accomplish any miracles, but he succeeded in developing a fighting team that won four out of the nine dual matches played, and in getting the courts in good shape for the conference meet. Captain Boothman looked good throughout the year but probably the most notable improvement was in the playing of Wasson, 1929 Freshman captain. He should be a dangerous match player in his last two years. The other members of the team were Boyer and Abernathy. Boyer lettered last year and looked good all the season. His outstanding performance was his holding McDiarmid of T. C. U. to a 10-8, 8-6 win. Abernathy has a wonderful spirit in a match and has two more years in which to develop.

Texas again dominated the situation with what was probably the strongest team in the United States, composed of Bell, Barnes, Dunlap, LaCoste, Ferguson and Key. T. C. U. had Ewell and McDiarmid, and Rice had Hess. At this writing Boothman is the only Mustang certain to enter the conference meet.

THE FRESHMAN TENNIS SQUAD

The 1929 Golf Season

LED by the brilliant Francis Holmes, who played his third and last year for the Mustangs, the 1929 Golf Season brought more than ordinary success to S. M. U. An unusually large number of good Golfers reported to Dr. McIntosh in the spring of last year, and it was only after repeated challenge matches that the squad was finally selected. Members of the squad were as follows: Germany (Captain and Manager), Holmes, Pitt, Halla, Lindsay and Carroll. They played dual matches with practically every member of the conference, but the most important tourney of the year was of course the Conference Meet held at Fort Worth.

There Holmes displayed his wares in the qualifying rounds and won medalist's honors with a snappy 75. He played on to the finals, but was forced to accept the runner-up's position after losing to Bridewell, Arkansas, in the final round. The match was played in a driving rain on a strange course so that accurate shooting was almost impossible. In the team play, S. M. U. won second place. This was calculated by taking the scores of the four lowest S. M. U. entrants and totaling them, and comparing this total with the totals of the lowest scores of the other school's teams.

Holmes, Germany and Carroll played their last matches for the Red and Blue in 1929 but their places have been well filled by Pitt, Halla, Lindsay and Lokey. Bert Pitt was elected captain of the 1930 squad.

The 1930 Golf Season

WITH the return of last year's Golf Team and the addition of several other promising candidates, prospects for a winning Golf Team looked good at the beginning of the season. In the play-off for places on the team Lindsay was number 1; Pitt, number 2; Halla, number 3; and Lokey, number 4.

In the two opening matches of the year, the Mustangs looked unusually good, defeating Baylor in Dallas by a large margin and Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

With a 1000 per cent record to their credit, the Mustangs showed promise to place high in the conference until their road trip, when, due to a let down in practice, they lost continuously. They beat Texas A. & M. in College Station.

In the return match with Texas Christian University in Dallas, the Mustang Golfers halved with the visitors, Lokey winning the singles. In spite of the losses on the road trip, the Mustangs look good to win third place in the conference. The conference tournament will be held at Houston the 14th, 15th, and 16th of May. Either Rice or Texas University is expected to cop first place in the conference.

Intra-Mural Athletics

OF COMPARATIVELY recent origin as a Mustang athletic institution, Intra-Mural Athletics received more attention from the Southern Methodist student body during 1929 and 1930 than did any other Hill activity with the exception of Varsity football. As usual, Intra-Fraternity football and baseball aroused the excited interest of all the campus Greeks.

Under the direction of John Donaho and Bonneau Murphy the Fraternity, Independent, and Class leagues are nearing the completion of their regular athletic schedule. The S. M. U. method of divisional competition enables every man in any of the various schools to participate in competitive sports.

At present the Kappa Sigs are leading in the Fraternity division with 672 points. The Sig Alphas hold second place with 641 markers. However, as the Kappa Sigs are definitely out of the Baseball race which carries 140 points, the championship will go to either the Sig Alphas or the Kappa Alphas, who are playing off the finals in that sport.

With Independent and Class Golf and Baseball yet to be played the standings in these divisions cannot be predicted.

FOOTBALL

Winning their second consecutive Fraternity Gridiron championship the Kappa Sig eleven of League B defeated the Delta Chi team of League A by a score of 7 to 6 in one of the most exciting games on the Intra-Mural calendar. The Kappa Sig pigskin toters played through the entire tournament without suffering a single defeat. The Delta Chis eased into the finals after being tied with the Phi Delt for the League A title.

In the Independent division, the School of Commerce eleven defeated a strong Theolog team for a well-earned championship.

THE COMMERCE FOOTBALL TEAM

BASKETBALL

JUDGING by the student attendance at games, the 1929 Fraternity Basketball race received almost as much attention as did the Mustang Varsity Quintet contests. The class of competition offered by the Greek basketekers showed a decided improvement and was indicative of the growing importance of Intra-Mural sports. The decrease in the number of games forfeited made the race closer than it has previously been. The championship, won by the A. T. O. cagers, was decided in a two-round round-robin tournament. In League B the Kappa Sig quintet came through undefeated with the Pi K. A.s running second. Although twice defeated in League A, the A. T. O. five played a good brand of ball to win over the Kappa Sigs. The Phi Delts, champions last year, boasted one of the men who ranked high in scoring honors in the frat league, in Jake Reynolds. With Runt Johnson and George Koontz as their main attractions, the Pi K. A. team put up a hard battle for the League B title.

An all-frat team composed of the following men was selected by John Donaho: Guards, Taylor (A.T.O.) and Daniels (Kappa Sigma); center, Reynolds (Phi Delt); forwards, Andrews (A. T. O.) and Otstott (Kappa Sigma).

The Dormitory team was acclaimed winner in the Independent League Basketball with the Y. M. C. A. team a close runner-up.

TRACK

DELAYED somewhat as a result of bad weather the Intra-Fraternity track meet won by the Kappa Sig cinder artists resembled a Varsity meet in the class of competition offered. Joe Prince, with 16 points to his credit, was awarded High Point Trophy. Blanton ran a close second netting 12 points. The final fraternity standing was as follows: Kappa Sigma, 45; S. A. E., 35; Delta Beta Chi, 13; Phi Delta Theta, 13; and Pi Kappa Alpha, 13.

GOLF

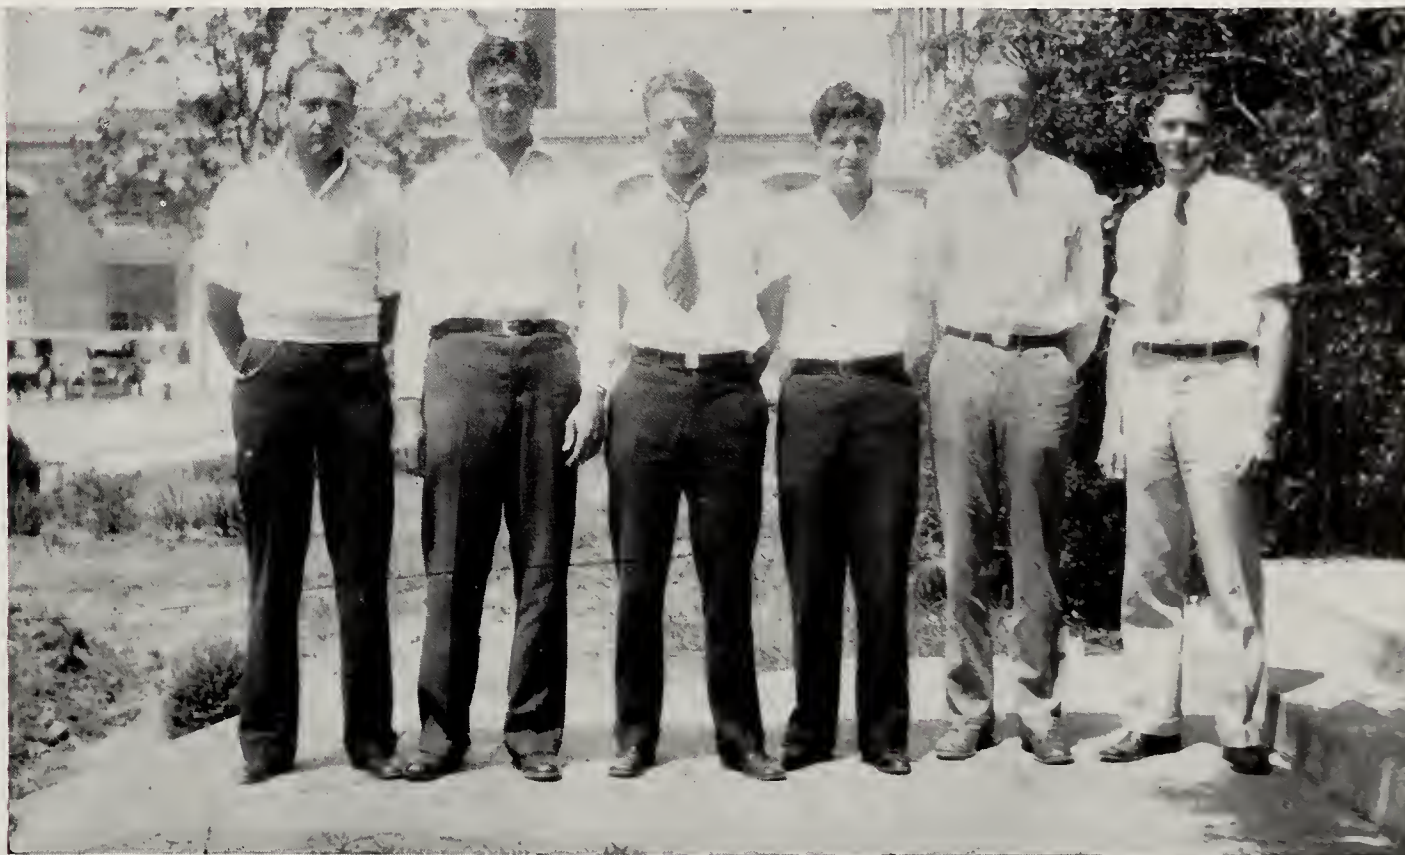

O'Hara Watts defeated Findley Walker 4 and 3 to win the Open Golf Tournament Championship. Forty-four men were originally entered in the tournament but only sixteen qualified. This number almost doubles the number of entrants in last year's tournament. As yet the Class division has not been played.

In the play-off of the Fraternity Golf division Otstott and Kattman of the Kappa Sig team, winners of League B, defeated the Phi Delt delegation, winners of League A, for the title. The Delta Sigs were runners-up in League A and the S. A. E. team ranked second in League B.

TENNIS

With an unusually strong team, the School of Law netmen defeated the Senior Engineers in the Independent League, and the Freshmen won Class competition. The K. A.s were winners in the frat division over the S. A. E. squad.

KAPPA SIGMA TRACK TEAM

SWIMMING

THE Swimming meet came in for a large share of interest this spring when the Sigma Alpha Epsilon team, coming from behind, won all the relays, defeating the Phi Delt with 28 points to the latter's 23. The A. T. O.s placed third with 18 points. George Wassell, Phi Delt, was high point man with three first places to his credit.

BASEBALL

Fraternity Baseball games drew the largest crowds in the history of Southern Methodist University Intra-Mural sports. All the games were close enough to afford plenty of excitement. A strange situation will be decided in the finals. If the Sigma Alpha Epsilons defeat the Kappa Alphas they will win the pennant, otherwise the Kappa Sigs will be champions.

The present Baseball standing is as follows:

A RECEPTION at the Field House honoring the new girls opened the season for the Women's Athletic Association at S. M. U. At this function the point system of W. A. A. was explained and the various awards displayed. Refreshments were served in the S. M. U. colors.

A completely revised constitution was adopted at the October meeting. Margaret Powell, Allyne Graber and Vivian Eubank were sent as delegates to the State W. A. A. Convention held at Canyon in the latter part of November. At the National Convention at Michigan University in April, S. M. U. was represented by Margaret Powell and Sarah May Paddock.

Throughout the year much enthusiasm was shown in the various sports. Football, volley ball, basketball and baseball were the major sports played, while the individual sports such as tennis, track, hiking and swimming were also given an important place in the program of the organization. With complete new equipment and Varsity letter men as coaches, track became one of the most popular sports on the W. A. A. calendar. Basketball, as usual, was the most popular of all sports with some sixty girls participating in practices and games.

The climax of the year's activities was a play-day for the high school girls of Dallas held on May 10th. After a picnic lunch in Arden Forest, some one hundred girls representing the seven Dallas high schools engaged in baseball and volley ball competition and various other sports. The day marked another success for the Association's annual frolic.

BASKETBALL has come to be the leading sport in the field of Intra-Mural competition for women. For the past two years, it has gained enough prominence to draw large crowds to each and every game. They are attended by non-fraternity groups as well as the fraternity groups themselves.

Intra-Mural sports are sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of the University. It is hoped that many other sports will be added to the list in future years. At the present time, baseball teams are being organized and a great amount of interest is being manifested by the entrance of a number of teams.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The Pi K. A. "country home" is fast becoming a popular rendezvous for most any dream girl, rose, or what have you. Bagdad has long since lost its charm for pleasure seekers. Meet the elite at any hour, the best of sororities (even Thetas), and if the rest of the frats want to pledge anyone, send the rushees around. Ten lessons for only the price of a beer.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

We present the only thing that the Tri-Delts can boast of and a "country queen" doesn't mean much after all. The editor must have seen her strut through the library else she could never have rated the beauty page. It could have been that Violet Allison and the rest were all too homely to take a good picture. Anyway, the editor wasn't satisfied.

LOVE BIRDS PAR EXCELLENCE

In the spring when the sap begins to rise and a young man's thoughts turn lightly to thoughts of love (or something) dear old Varsity's campus is alive with fluttering, twittering love birds. Of the ones who fall in this category, there are two who stand head and shoulders above the rest. Their antics cause the knowing to smile cynically, the uninitiated to gape in open wonder, and even the indifferent to take a mild notice. The incongruity of the whole thing lies in the identities of the coeured amour. Imagine if you can, Marjorie Sigler, who has been high-timing around the campus for the last three years, blundering in and out of everything that happens and her little unsophisticated K. A. Freshman, Ed Wright, who strives with all the fervor of a true "Southern Gentleman" to gratify every whim of his "heart's desire." (No wonder he bums so many cigarettes!) Let us look back in old Grind Section files and see the dossier of "The Sweetheart of Kappa Alpha" (through necessity).

It was in the fall of '27 that Sigler, then a demure high school conqueress, came to

S. M. U., and immediately pledged A. O. Pi on the strength of her obnoxious manner of laughing and no other particular qualification that we can call to mind. It wasn't long before she was involved in an affair with "Playboy" Dean, a person always on the lookout for, well, anything. This bliss continued until both were worn out. Sigler emerged from the affair a sadder, wiser girl—"Playboy" only slightly bored. Thus endeth the first episode.

In '28, Sigler (now known as "Flaming Youth") entered cautiously in several affaires de couer and after being boycotted by the A. T. O.s was at a loss until on discovering what a wonderful bunch of chaps the K. A.s were, allowed herself to be gathered under their eveready wing.

In '29, things rocked along as they usually do for "Southern Belles" (tea and more teas) until our little friend, always on the lookout for new talent, discovered the wonderful, though entirely potential possibilities in Wright. What the band of attraction was will always remain a secret. Perhaps it was Wright's physique which he so readily dis-

PI BETA PHI

Once upon a time the Pi Phis were the BIG things on the campus. They were until the Kappas came along and Mary Brown, Mary Helen Kean, and a dozen others had to wear themselves down chasing George Tyler, in order to beat out Burr Ballard. It's time to explain now that the Pi Phis wouldn't have rated so much publicity in this section if they hadn't courted the editor so much.

played in basketball. Perhaps it was his charming little way of breaking into groups and intruding on conversations, or perhaps it was his foul-ball personality. At any rate, by consent of both parties, they decided they were "soul mates," and publicly, oh yes, so very publicly, let their resolve become known.

Theirs is a love to be declared from the house tops but not in the Capitol Theatre. Strange to say, it's hard for the person behind to see a show when two people try to occupy the same seat at the same time. (The noise is terrible during talkies). Too bad that such insignificant individuals must make topic for tired grind editors. Ho! Hum!

FAMOUS FACTS ABOUT INFAMOUS PEOPLE

Claudia Heard says she has had dates with and refused to marry Rudy Valee, Red Cagle, President Hoover and Con Monigan.

Eloise Hollingsworth says she is from Petty, Texas, but is not a country girl.

Yvonne (Haywire) Hollis says she was dropped on her head when she was very small and this accounts for her engaging personality.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

The Kappas are the biggest bunch of two-faced individuals on the campus. The side that the public sees is Allie Angell, Ballard and a few of the other goodie-goodies in the chapter. The side that the grind editor sees is the Olivers and Peggy Hodge. Besides, they gripe because they didn't have any beauties, and it's all their fault.

Virginia Abney likes long, black cigars.

Bernice Simmons was seen in a pawn shop on Deep Elm a few days before Christmas by some good Pi K. A.s.

Dorothy Loper, Lib Lemly and Posy Harrison were on a "whoopie" party in Apartment 15, Marlin Courts, some time ago with town boys. Maybe they were waiting for a street car.

Louise Oliver and Hazel Oliver along with Peggy Hodge want to join some good national drinking fraternity.

Bessie Hallmark said before she left that she intended to stamp out the drinking evil and engage in missionary work among the wild Zetas.

Alice Bryson has gone from bad to worse —Maurice Acers to J. D. Miller.

Norris Creath walked back from a date with Mary Bess Sawyer some time ago.

Charlie French's hobby is taking two sorority sisters to the University Club on the same evening, unknowing to each other. This can be done only with Pi Phis because they are so dumb.

We think that this situation can be remedied when the Allday Twins, Alice Bryson, Ruth Gibbons and Virginia Abney have graduated and left a few of their battle marks behind.

"I'm on Fifth Ave. in New York now if you're in town, don't fail to look me over."—Mary Brown.

Bernice Brown is having a hard time trying to uphold the Brown traditions since Bob and Mary are gone. In fact, she's not holding them up—she's living ON them.

Jimmy Ablowich was not only courting Pat Murphy, but the whole Murphy family as well until his old man put a stop to it last mid-term. He told Jimmy that the Irish were not as hot as the Jews anyway.

Sarah Cresswell and Sarah Haynes, a couple of old "has beens" have been leaches on the University for so long that they can't even rate a date with civil people any more.

Ruth Brown is the only Theta who is dying to fall in love and get married. Keith Pigg, Weldon Howell and Bill Banks are three broken wretches from having affairs with her. Keith was too consistent, Weldon was too indifferent and Bill was too young to know any better.

Sam Fly, Keller Parker and Howard Harris are indeed a trio of fortune hunters. They all say they prefer marriage to a career in running after such mines as Roberta Green, Eudora Longmoor, Madeline Dougherty, Marcella Sprouls, Margaret Davis, Bess Organ and E. E. Miller.

Spook Knickerbocker and Jean McIntosh have found happiness in that they have found each other. May their romance bloom and blossom, but never bear fruit.

Virginia Lawler has four camp dates. It is suggested that she be hung up and quartered.

Geneva Garretson, Mary and Clara Gaines picked up three Northwestern baseball players after their game here. Needless to say, the party was at the Gaines' home and was broken up by the police.

Beth Kinnebrew says horses drown in front of her house every spring.

DELTA BETA CHI

We should have informed the Delta Beta Chis three years ago that Sigma Chi was not in favor of expansion in church schools and furthermore, that the Texas chapter has kept you out of the running just because Peterson, Presley, Jones and a few more hams tried to run the blokes in the ground.

A HISTORY OF S. M. U.

It seems that during this year, Prof. Henning has made much fuss over the gathering of old history and records of S. M. U. We of the Saddle Burr undertook a little research ourselves and from a package of old papers, found in the gutter at Akard and Pacific Avenue, gleaned the following simple facts:

Back in '09 or '10, Prof. Moore and Mrs. Hay, being dissatisfied with Southwestern, put out on the Trinity River on a small raft, bound for anywhere to start a new University. The first thing that Mrs. Hay did after getting on the raft was to fall and break her arm.

After what seemed endless days, these two fearless navigators and supporters of higher education hove in sight of the Dallas Union Terminal. Here an old hunter dressed in buckskin met them. This stranger said his name was Bishop . . . Thereupon, Mrs. Hay fell down and broke her arm again.

After much discussion, these travelers de-

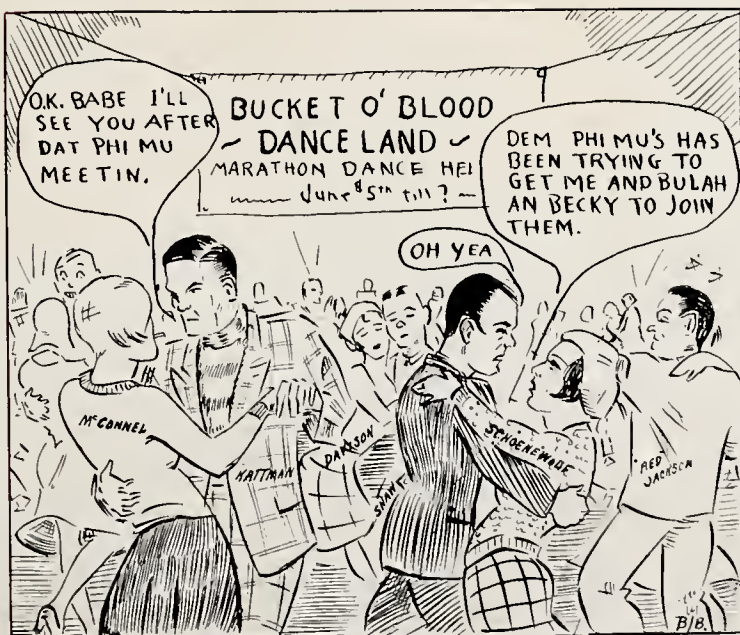

PHI DELTA THETA

Did you know that the water was cut off at the Phi Delt house just recently? This accounts in part for the dirty faces and dirty reputations that most of the crew over there possesses. This is the house that "Jack" built, supposedly, but there is plenty of "jack" still due on it. That accounts, too, for the sorry bunch of barbs they have pledged this last semester.

Dis bunch comes from de best families on Thoid Avenue. Gee's, but how they do dance and wiggle at Security Balls and dis fine place wat is called Kidd Springs. W'y de oder day, I took one of dem swell janes up in an airplane. De bloomin' plane caught fire and they flew down, safe as dis boid called de bat.

cided upon a route inland that would lead them to a site for the new University. The route was as follows: Past the National Tailors to McKinney Ave., from McKinney to Charlie's place, and thence to the present site. One cannot help but congratulate them on the wisdom of their route.

As the party came over the hill, there sat Scotty in all his glory. He was bewailing the fact that he had a University Pharmacy and no University to go with it.

Thereupon, Professor Moore said "What a wonderful place to build a—"

"University," said Bishop—

"Hurrah! Hurrah!" shouted Mrs. Hay and fell down and broke her arm again.

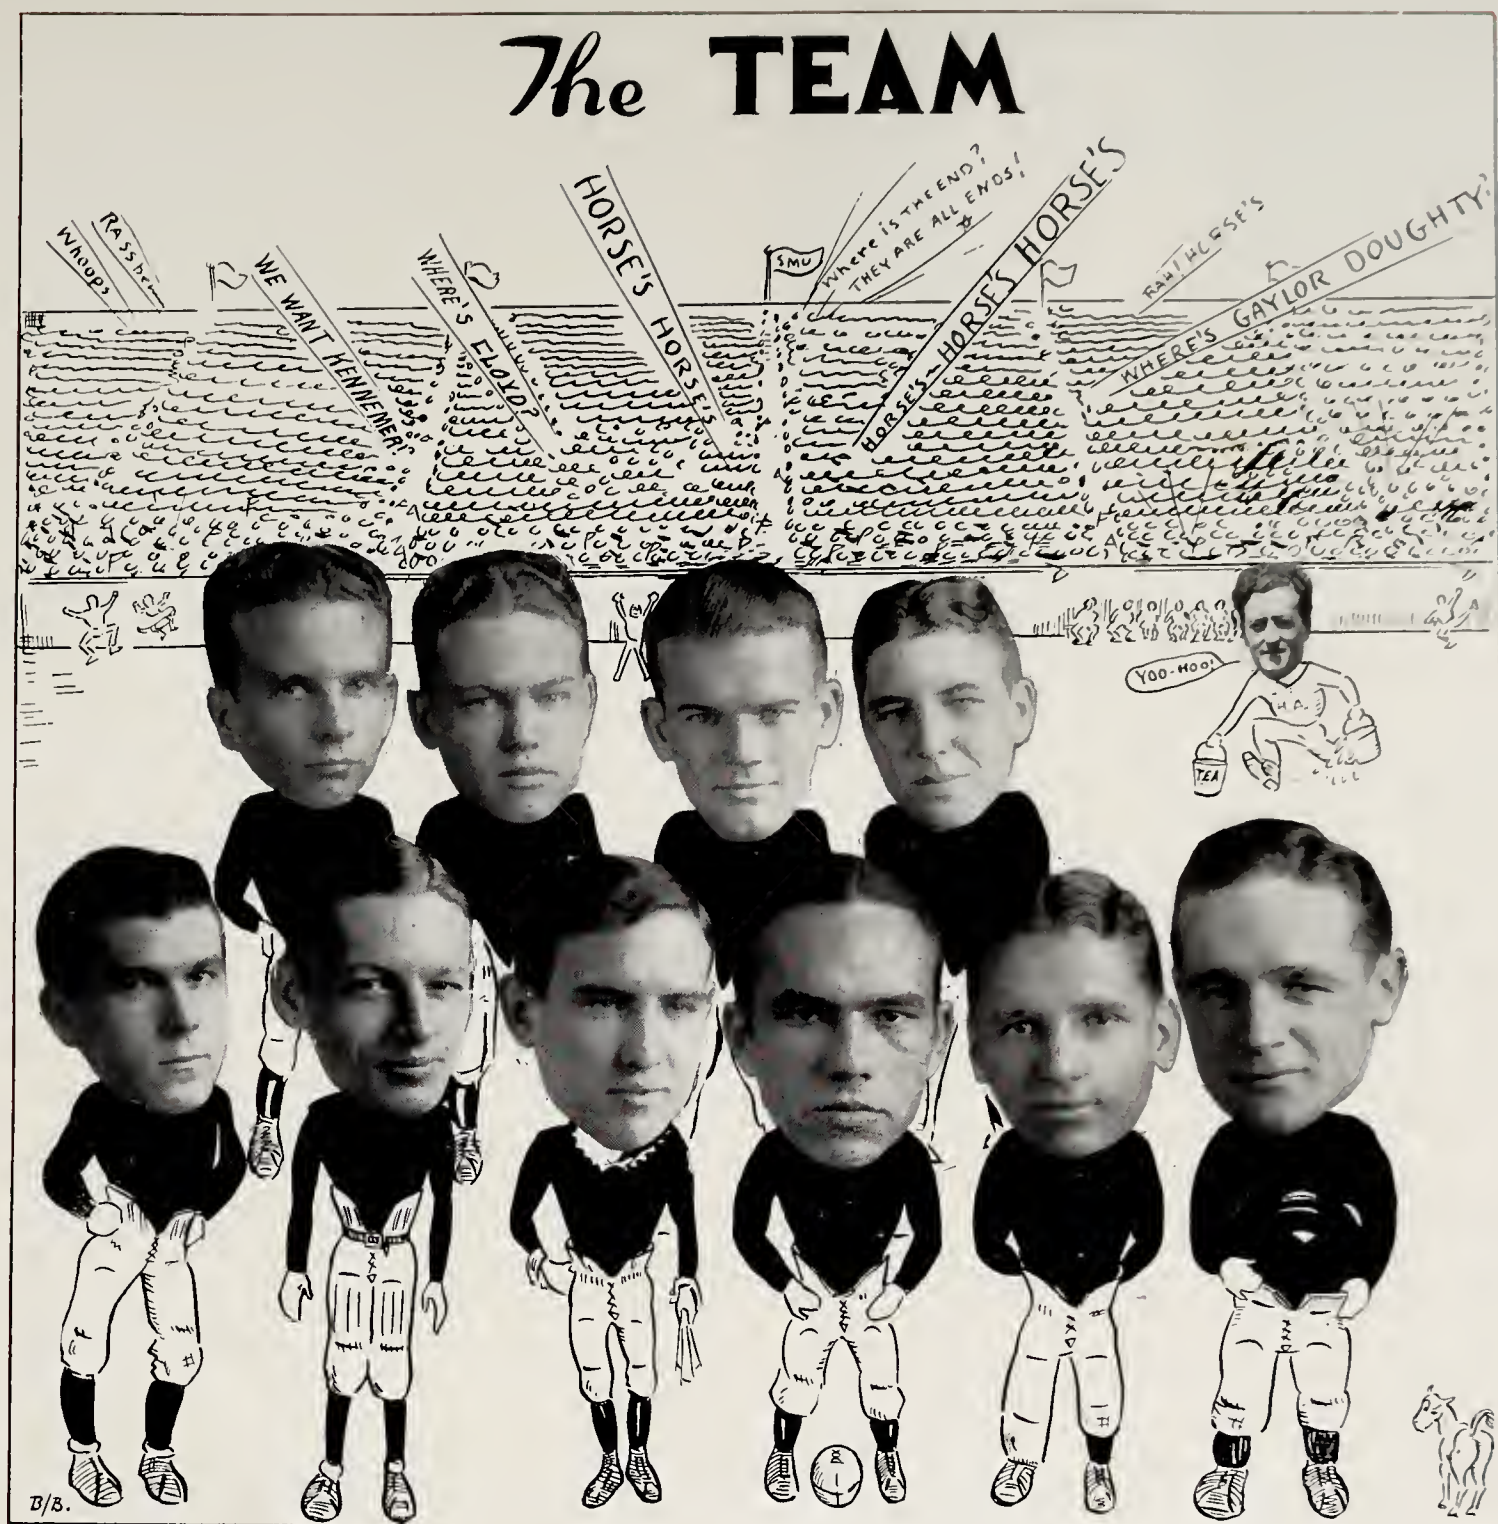

At this time, Mrs. Gardner came running up and demanded to be matron of Atkins Hall. They all gave three cheers, built Dallas Hall and planted a tree.

And that, dear children, is the story of dear Ole' S. M. U.

WE PRESENT the well known descendants of the Jackass as they appear on the campus. H. A. Campbell, because he thinks he gets over with the girls. H. A. Moncrief, because we needed another S. A. E. H. A. Parker, because of his foul jokes. H. A. Whittenberg, because he's dumb and can't help it. H. A. Crawford, the prime one of the lot, for all reasons. Brother H. A. GRIND SECTION

KAPPA DELTA

Shoosh! Shoosh! Don't wake these girls up! They are so nice and quiet and contented (just like certain bovine creatures). Ever since Margaret Brown and Inez Farmer left the chapter two years ago, Katherine Graves has held the bunch together. "Quoth the Raven—nevermore" will we have a good chapter.

DELTA SIG vs. SELF RESPECT

During the past few years, the students have had chances to see all types of boys, including gold-diggers (Fly), temperamental pests (Lokey), sissies (Kenneth Leslie), egotistic athletes (Hume), and parasites (Delta Sig Chapter). This group of boys, not satisfied with running their local chapter to the bottom of the social list, developed the parasitic complex to the height of perfection. Any time a Delta Sig is seen, the other person grabs his cigarettes in one hand and his money in the other.

Not content with these torturing mannerisms, they set out to inflict a new phase of mystery on the student body. The Delta Sigs, headed by Walter Moore and Frank Winn, for some ungodly reason began rushing Jean McIntosh and Margaret Wasson, by far the most conventional girls in school. At first the move created much humor for the students, excepting the jealous and sanguine Knickerbocker.

Kennemer soon came to the aid of Moore and Winn and the three were unanimously followed by the whole chapter, with but one exception—a fellow who had learned the fundamentals of common sense. Only two reasons seem perceptible for such idiocracy and one of them is to rate mention in the Grind Section. If this was their motive, both should consider it rather expensive socially. As for the other motive—we'll let you draw your own conclusions, but we know the facts.

PEOPLE WHO CHANGE SCHOOLS

It usually raises some question when a girl changes schools, especially if she is satisfied with the former institution and monopolizes the time of the most prominent athlete on the campus. Such we hear about Dorothy Loper and Johnny Railton of Texas University. We might add that Johnny didn't pitch such good baseball last year either. Moral—catch as catch can.

Percentage which the Co-Op will share with the University this year: .00001%. This amounts to about $0.23.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Willie Wilson's hot check during the Duchess Contest will go down in history as being an influential factor in Sara's popularity, but don't ever think that it didn't cost Scooter, Guthrey, Heard and the whole crew plenty more. It sure must be nice to waste efforts on one so useless, and then have her throw them down for Hollywood and Agua Caliente. She won't be able to do you all a bit of good there.

WHAT EVERY YOUNG SORORITY GIRL SHOULD KNOW

How to enter the Co-Op properly and not a drawing room.

What to do when date passes out.

Be able to recognize any of the fraternity badges at thirty paces.

Be able to sing, whistle or hum any frat song.

Know just how long a certain date will wait while dressing is finished.

How to get a rush at dances.*

How to get one, two, or any number of optional camp dates.

What to do if found alone in an apartment with a Pi K. A.

How to manage late dates.

How to remove spots, stains and holes from clothing.

*When better dancers are found they won't be Pi Phis.

Let your conscience be your guide.

SIGMA KAPPA

Jean McIntosh has to carry the burden of social obligations of the Sigma Kappas, dividing them between K. A. Southern and Delta Sigs. She can't supply the beauty because it is absolutely nihil in or out of the chapter. Bedwell will agree as one of the disappointed beauty seekers. Let's have Pan Hellenic push the frats like this off the campus for resembling minute locals.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

The Sig Alphas have ordered another carload of pledge pins for the coming matrimonial season, June, in order that they may make a wedding gift to the bride and groom. We don't see any particular reason for being so optimistic about a matter so delicate, and can see no excuse for starting the rush season so early. We understand, too, that the national council desires to withdraw the local charter because they pledge such men as Olin Mouzon, the hairless wonder of the age.

SOUTHERN TRASH vs. SOUTHERN TRASH

Bite 'em Lokey, the K. A.'s contribution to Kappa Beta Phi, has been unsuccessful in his attempt to keep the K. A.s from abandoning their Jew grip. Lokey, aided by "Phantom" Knickerbocker and the rest of the trashy drunks, have given much of their time in trying to convert the boys into being human, but since "Sunbeam" Gilbert, God's gift to the tea sippers, has decided to kick two generations of drunks out of the chapter, there has been much slapping of wrists.

Bob's idea of a fraternity is our idea of a putrid sorority. After insulting several of the brothers including Ned Kimbrough, "Sunbeam" suggested that the boys kiss, but several of the effeminate members refused, saying, "Lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine."

No one could be found who would kiss Cabe so the chapter remains in the throes of open revolution. Patron Saints don't seem to keep much peace on earth.

TO ALL DALLAS PHI DELTA THETAS:

The Phi Chapter at S. M. U. needs your financial assistance now. This chapter is young and has had many problems.

It built a fraternity house at a cost of $20,000.00, and is now in default on same in the sum of $1,154.05. Semi-annual interest is now due on $15,000.00 loan, together with a $500.00 payment on principal. It is imperative that about $2,500.00 be raised immediately to put these boys in a sound financial condition. We believe that they will be able to take care of themselves hereafter if we relieve them of this condition now.

Such donation as you feel able to give the chapter will be used on the house indebtedness, and will be appreciated.

DR. TAYLOR DOWNS DEMON RUM IN UNIVERSITY PARK!

"I have heard it rumored that the Eighteenth Amendment is being broken right here on our campus," said Dr. Taylor, soon after the huge whisky still was discovered in a dignified looking home on University Boulevard. How Dr. Taylor could ever make such a rash statement when the source of supply was so far removed from the University is more than we will ever be able to understand. Surely these were all idle rumors when one stops to consider that the Pi K. A.s never drink anything stronger than coffee, the K. A.s nothing stronger than tea, lemonade for the Delta Chis, and a swig or two of beer for all the organizations on the campus.

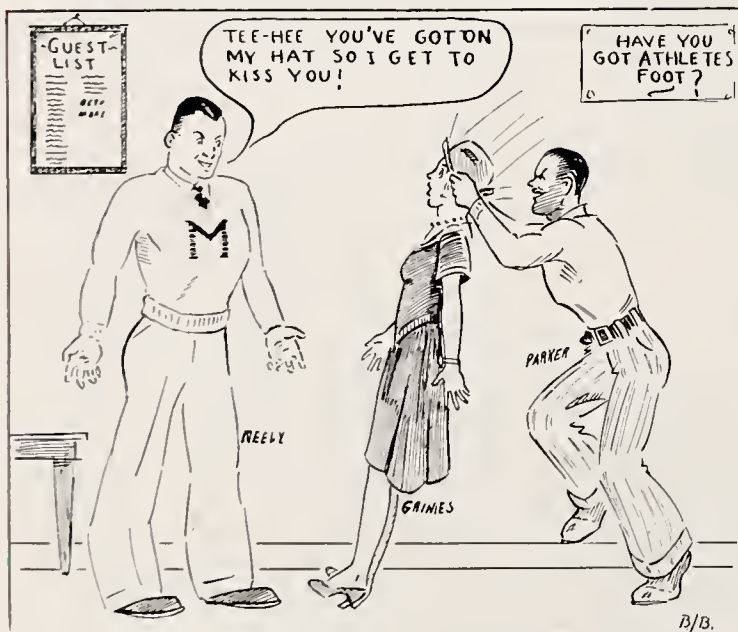

We are sure that Dr. Taylor has taken the wrong attitude toward the younger generation by even supposing that young innocents abroad in the night would not take a drink. When queried by the Discipline Committee, Weldon Howell admitted being somewhat bathed in intoxicants every week end since the opening of school. Perhaps that was the reason why his absence from the University for a week was so very conspicuous. We trust that this example will not break the faith of our true benefactor, Dr. Taylor.

SOME COMBINATIONS THAT CAN'T BE HELPED IN THE FIELD OF WRESTLING MATCHES

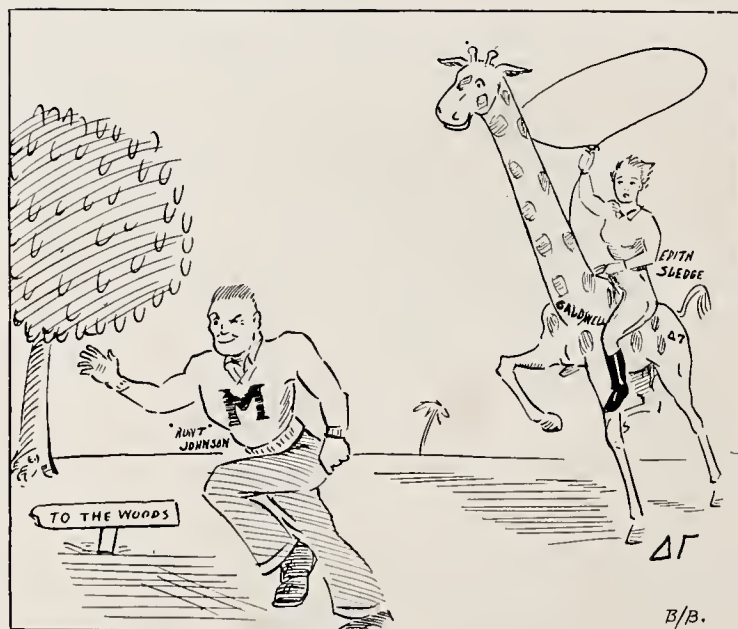

Gibbons vs. Crutcher
Hollingsworth vs. Miller
Sawyer vs. Gilbert
Risser vs. Miller
McConnell vs. Bowman
Hughes vs. Hopper
Anybody vs. Abernathy
Rats vs. Delta Sigs
Anderson vs. Lokey
Key vs. H. A. Long
Women's Pan Hellenic vs. Pi K. A.

The only motive we can see in the Thetas pledging Jacqueline Anderson is to give them an inner road on her little sister. Better if you had stayed with the quiet little Delta Gammas, Jack.

DELTA GAMMA

The Kappa Sigs have so many bum athletes to put over with girls that they must resort to their high school prank known as the Guest List. A poor, unsuspecting little girl is taken in the house, shown a picture with back out, the girl signs, the picture is reversed to show two nit-wits in fond embrace. Neeley and Kattman grab the girl and start necking. Funny trick—too bad they get so hard up.

KAPPA SIGMA

Speaking of athletes reminds us that the Delta Gams have little to do but supply these savage Mustangs with neck or what have you. Sledge has often chased "Runt" to the very ends of the earth (Bluff View). We think Gene Caldwell is an egg for chasing down Baylor Med students and Eloise crums herself in trying to make dates with Dub Miller when Fritz Hawn don't ask her.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX

Surely, Texie B. Davis could not let her name slip from the far-famed annals of the Grind Section. We offer this parting letter of our own H. A. Porter Ellis, taken from the year-old files of The Rotunda office.

My darling Texie B.:

Under the circumstances, I believe that this letter is very, very appropriate and fitting. It seems to be the custom, if nothing else, when one's frat gives a dance, to favor the one most thought of. Since I was not favored for the Zeta dance by you, I take it that you personally like the one you favored more than you do me. Please let me take this opportunity to commend you on your selection, and to also thank you for the many, many pleasant evenings of entertainment that you so kindly provided for me. Let me add that your technique is remarkable for one so young.

Please permit me to now sever all connections that have previously been made by either you or me.

I sincerely hate to see you do this, for once I thought you different and not that damnable deceitful person so many girls are. I was mistaken. I sincerely trust that other people have and do in the future enjoy your sort of entertainment as I did in the past.

I shall not hold anything in my memory of you as I prefer it all to be a blank—can you respect this?

Hoping you the best of all luck in your future undertakings, I am

Sorry,

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

The A. T. O. tuffs have gained the rep of having the biggest bunch of sots on the campus. Not only that; but such H. A.'s as Ablowich, Threadgill, Hamiter, Pinckard—well, anybody else on the roll—have helped to despoil the good national name. The big bunch of sponges are steadily falling to the depths of despair and the gutter.

DELTA ZETA

We had to have the Delta Zetas on this same page with the A. T. O.s because of the correlation of fast falling chapters. We thought that Fiser's pledge had been broken when the cartoon was drawn but understand that she is still playing drawback on their team. Ferne Wilson seems to be the only girl who can play "full" back on their mythical eleven.

CHI OMEGA

When Garretson captivated the campus with that hideous laugh of hers, it was found that it took more than a laugh to keep a girl's popularity. So Geneva accepts the presidency of the Chi Os (ex-officio according to Mrs. Hay) and proceeds to make Wylene Anglin the social and political roar of the campus. Having failed in this, we find Wylene at the depths with the Gaines sisters, Merle Fagan, Loper and Harrison.

the football players but they don't know that they could do any better, so join our army and help keep the athletes out of training."

ZETA TAU ALPHA

When the work's all done next fall, we guess the Zetas will still be striving toward the same goal—to bump everybody! Somebody? No, just anybody!

THE SORORITY DUMP-PILE

Beta Phi Alpha, Delta Zeta, Phi Mu, Kappa Delta, Gamma Phi Beta and Pi Beta Phi (or what ever their name is).

It occurs to me that a man the size and age of Ed Jay could be married rather than robbing the cradle for such dates as Virginia Lawler, Dottie Williams and "Mite" Sledge.

When the Sig Alphas hear of a couple getting married, they immediately open another train load of pledge pins and hand them one as a bit of expectancy.

"Dumb Driven Cattle"—Walter B. Moore.

"Don't Be Dumb Driven Cattle"—Wesley Polk.

At any hour of the night, a person passing by their house may hear such popular songs as "Be It Ever so Moveable, There's No Place Like Home" and "Pi K.A. Made a Nomad Out of Me."

Hawkins Golden: When do we start studying law?

Double Jeopardy Dean Potts: Just as soon as youse guys get down on your books and quit flossy-ing around on the campus.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

When a chapter gets so low that they can't pay for a hedge in their back yard, there's time to draw a line. Better get bigger crowds for those marathon dances and it won't be so hard on the Kappa Sig and Delta Sig pocketbooks. Another suggestion would be to run some of the Jew jewlery salesmen out of the country and all members would not have to buy diamond set pins.

GRIND SECTION

DANCING ELFS

If it is possible for a sissy and effeminate creature to be an H. A., we have found the perfect combination in that sweet thing called Leslie. Not only does he bill and coo over a mite of a dog and pout for a week when he awakens to find it gone, but he also becomes a perfect ass to all who may come in contact with him. This all comes within his immediate circle of friends, assuming that he has some.

Let us now delve into a bit of public assininity. For those who were fortunate enough to rate a bid to the Delta Zeta costume dance, let us remind them of their obligation to dance with this big elf who aspired to be an alluring young maiden in appearance and turned out to be one who resembled the lowest of Akard St. He might call it fun, but we were all ashamed. Thanks to the pros who will graduate our queen this year. Another year would be unbearable.

POPULARITY—BAH!

We've all heard of the little country girl who came to the city and because of her looks attained quite a bit of popularity. Miss Mary Bess Sawyer, Queen of Brownwood and the surrounding farms, seems to be head over heels in a popularity frenzy. At the first of the year, she was known to nod once in a while, but now she merely makes a swishing sound as she twitches by. She should realize by this time that she has shot her best barrel, so to speak, and we would advise that she should not return next fall. A new crop of "farmer queens" will appear, and it is known that their stock doesn't last more than a year. Their technique gets stale. If you don't believe it, Mary Bess, just ask Flossie Grimes and Marjorie Sigler.

THE EGG-BAG

At the first of this year, there was instituted at Virginia and Snyder Halls a little bag known as the Egg Bag. It was hung in the hall, and when one of the girls came in from a date with a guy she thought was an egg, into the bag his name would go.

The other night, the Egg-Bag was full nigh to overflowing, so some of the girls decided to count the votes. This is how it stood on the biggest eggs in school:

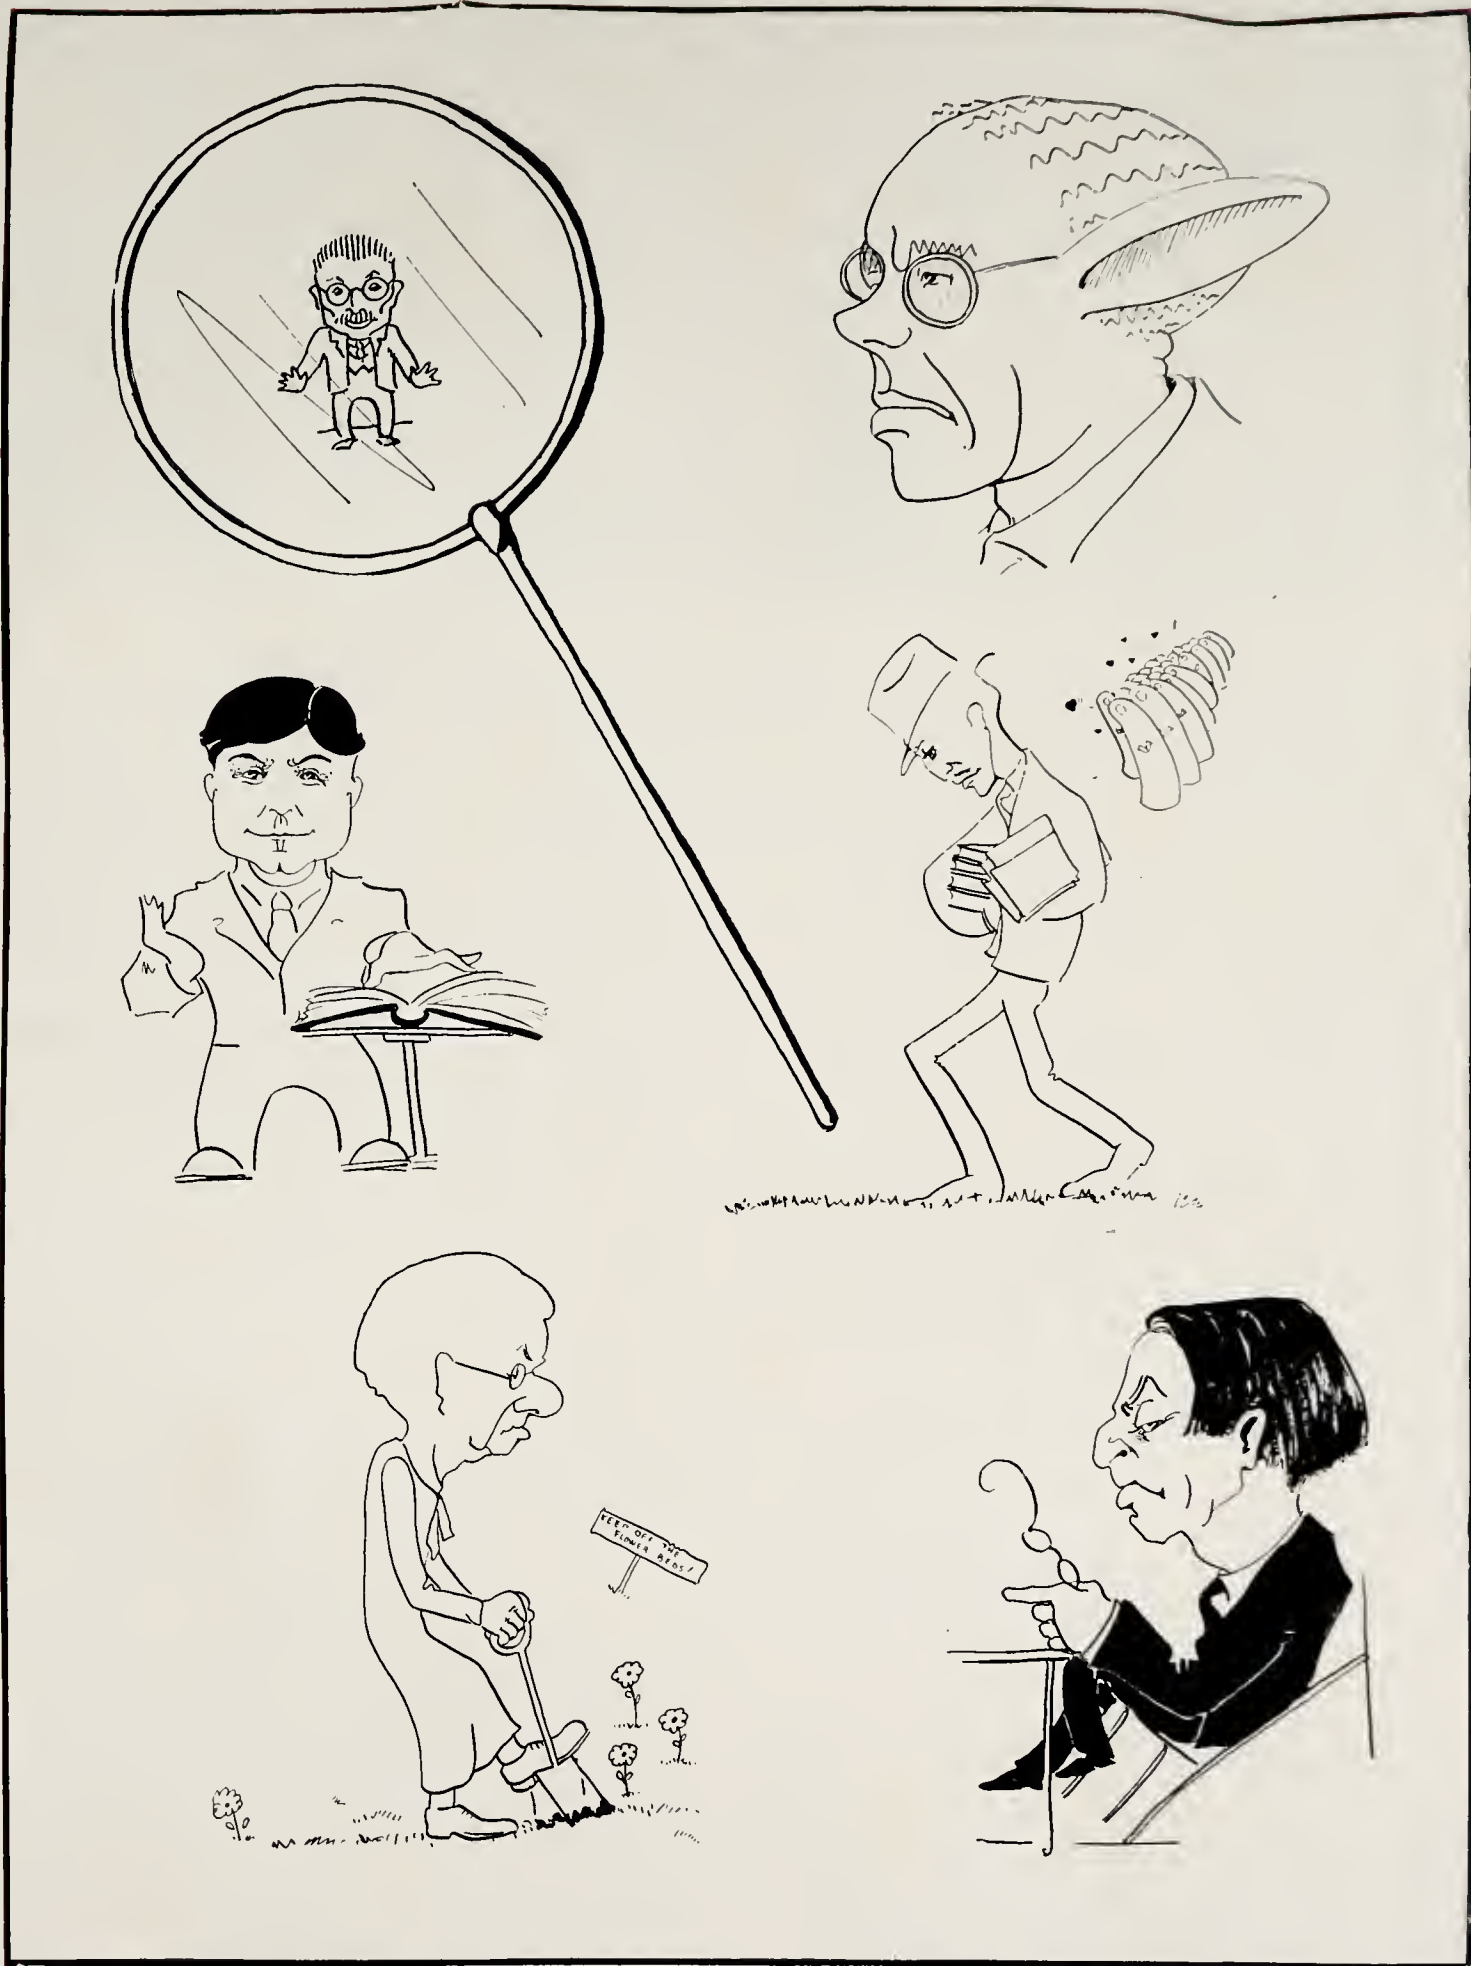

- First—Elliott Kennemer
- Second—Count Banowsky
- Third—Ira Hopper
- Fourth—Al Brooks
- Fifth—Bill Lokey
- Sixth—Walter Moore
- Seventh—Jimmy Squires
- Eighth—Warren Gravely
- Ninth—Hugh Henderson
- Tenth—Ollie Gibson

It will be remembered that Ruth Gibbons entered politics last fall when the Pi Phis were not in the field. Looks like a bit of cowardice on the Zetas part to keep out of the race when "Speck" Meador announced this year. Better get your feet warm, Zetas. Look how the A. O. Pi's have gone down.

POPULAR GIRLS—A. H!

KAPPA SIG vs. A. T. O.

You will all recall that Al (our dear little boy) was once an A. T. O. in days gone by. Along comes the Kappa Sig hams and the A. T. O.s give him the plank walk. Safe in the arms of Kappa Sig, Al has been a big duck in a little puddle when it might have been vice versa had he stayed where he belongs. As we recall, though, it may not have been his choice.

SELLING THE COOP STORE

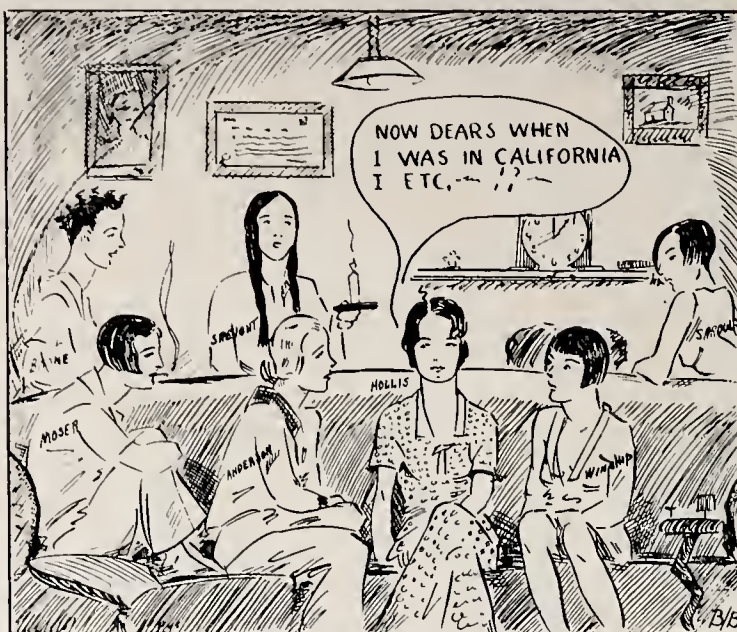

(In true words of those concerned)

Mr. Teal and Dutch McIntosh are in a club room of the downtown district. Both are sitting on disorderly card tables which show signs of a recent poker game. Don Scott's cigarette holder and John McGinnis' hat are to be seen in an obscure corner.

Mr. Teal: Well, Dutch, you just cleaned me out and I guess I am several dollars in debt to you. You will have to take the Coop and I sure hate to see it go, because I have lived in luxury from its sales for a number of years.

Dutch: Teal, I won that money fair and was expecting to be paid in cash. I admit that it looks like the Coop should be a paying proposition, but I am worried because I know just how unpopular I am with the students. You know as well as I do that I am a flop as a football coach and that I have been holding the team back and gyping the student body all the time.

Mr. Teal: Well, that is more or less true,

ALPHA DELTA PI

There is no excuse for anyone getting so swelled up over a trip to California as Hollis did last fall. She just couldn't wait to get back and bore the whole chapel with a few stories of the West. If she had told the things that really happened, faculty members would have turned gray. Be that as it may, such things as Betty Anderson, Moser, Speight and Sprouls are still elements of mirth on the campus.

but still with the location of the Coop even you should make it pay.

Dutch: If this is such a good proposition why don't you go on and keep it?

Mr. Teal: To be frank with you Dutch, the last time that Babb and I settled we took our 50-50 split out of the student's 5% and I am afraid that Bailey and the rest are getting wise.

Dutch: Well, I will think the matter over. Really it doesn't net over 300%, now does it?

Teal: We usually clear about $6,000 at the beginning of each semester on the books and the income from toasted rolls alone amounts to enough to bear expenses for the whole year. The position also associates you with Miner and the theologs, which will connect you with some grafts that are even bigger than the ones you have been in heretofore.

Dutch: Don't try to kid me. I am just afraid that I will have to work.

Teal: Nonsense, it will be the softest kale you ever made. Just think, you will never have to work. After marrying all of the money that you did and getting into some-

DELTA CHI

No wonder the Delta Chis failed to give a dance this year. Sam Johnson, we know, is the world's foulest at the terpsichorean art and Banowsky, Sprague and Dub Miller run him close seconds. Aside from their potent pledging possibilities in Dave Hardie, we don't see how any Freshman would have nerve enough to take a button from a fraternity so young.

THE DEBRIS

Strive as we may, there just wasn't room in the section to give the Gamma Phi Betas, Beta Phi Alphas and Theta Phis any deserving publicity. The Theta Phis won't be any better off if they do get their national and the two other pieces of debris would do just as well without a charter.

thing like this, you should have as good an income as the average bootlegger.

Dutch: Will you guarantee this to pay as much per capita as Charlie's place?

Teal: Well, there may not be as many students that will patronize you but I believe that the graft will offset the difference.

Dutch: Alright, I will take it.

And this is the reason, boys and girls, why the place where it once actually took 15 minutes to get a coke, you are able to buy one in 30 minutes now.

PUZZLES?#?!

What makes the Delta Sigs hang around Jean McIntosh so much?

Why didn't the Theta Alumni accept Marjorie Sigler?

What is Margaret Furrh doing on lonesome roads around the University when Joe (the law) tells her and the date to move on?

Why don't the Pi Phis pledge some good neck?

Why doesn't Berniece Darwin learn to dance?

Why did the Zeta's break Pan Hellenic rushing rules to pledge Bessie Lee Hallmark and then turn tables and break her pledge because she drank a bit and had a good time?

What makes Jack Reeder so good looking?

Why is every Pi K. A. function such a "staggering" success?

When will the Sig Alphas pledge one real, honest-to-goodness man?

When will Sarah Miller grow up?

egg men who always tells everyone what he used to do somewhere else and never does anything. No doubt when he finishes school he will tell other people what he used to do at S. M. U.—you know the type.

Ross Magee, champion bug-pursuer and admirer of anyone who will pay any attention to him, is widely noted as the Pi K. A. initiated pledge. Ross rates this space through his seniority; after refusing to have his hair cut between Christmas and Easter he's had hopes of such honor. Ross, you get this because you are a Senior, because it is your last chance and because you have tried so hard for four years. Keep on Lewis, you may succeed someday, too, if they have another Pi K. A. editor.

Congratulations to you, General Osbourn of the English 12 forces. After four years in active service, Alvis finally passed the course and retired on a pension.

What makes Susan Willis such a mysterious lady? GUESS**

Why does (Hal)ice Bryson always chew gum?

Why do they call Warren Gravely "Fireman?"

Why did the Kappas break Galen Porter's pledge and leave Peggy Hodge, the Olivers and a few more in there?

Again we ask—What can Martha Baird see in Billous Forbes?

Powder and Patches

POWDER AND PATCHES this year was as everyone expected; a chance for the sororities to show off what they had. Thanks to Deans Hay and Holt the students morals were not corrupted by the show and everything went off very nicely and was very dull. It wouldn't be at all surprising, if the censors keep on like they have, if next year the curtain didn't rise on a blank stage, even void of tables and chairs because their legs didn't have on pants or something.

A short review of the acts is as follows:

RUSH WEEK - - - - Phi Mu Co-Op - - - Kappa Kappa Gamma
This little act was quite refreshing in that it gave the student body the chance to see the Phi Mus dressed up for the first time this year. Kidd, Faulkner and Shook were not exaggerated enough to be representative. They lacked that certain assinine something.

REGISTRATION - - - Zeta Tau Alpha
One of the Allday twins (don't ask which one) threw an old fashioned fit that was very delightful.

BABB BEHIND THE BARS - Alpha Omicron Pi
This act was saved by the chorus which was composed of a dozen very well-built girls who went into their dance with all the lightness and poise of elephants.

ENGINEERING FEATS - Kappa Delta
This fast waning sorority really put themselves over with the engineers by giving this act. Much he-manishness was displayed.

CHAPEL - - - - Beta Phi Alpha
To show there really is a Beta Phi chapter in school.

BASEBALL - - - Kappa Alpha Theta
The action of this act was about as slow as the chapter.

ROTUNDA BEAUTIES - - - Pi Beta Phi
Nancy Hines and Drusella McCullough did a very excellent take-off on Messrs. Powell and Mahoney. McCullough spoiled it, however, by coming in the Co-Op early the next morning dressed a la Mahoney.

SNIDER SCENE - - - Delta Gamma
The scene would have been much better had it been a perspective, late at night with shades up.

EXAMINATIONS - - - Alpha Delta Pi
Sprouls and Anderson tried to pull a Duncan Sisters, but their blatant little voices sounded like two pieces of rusty tin grating together on a frosty morning.

POLITICAL POT - - Delta Delta Delta
Setting-up exercises for the Delts, supposedly to wear off a bit of surplus avoirdupois in any number of places.

MEN'S PAN HELLENIC - Sigma Kappa
Very, very, very, very representative of the A. T. O. drunkards and the Sig Alph kids. We rather fancy the publicity of the Pi K. A. country home.

CHEMISTRY LABORATORY - Delta Zeta
We didn't think the act quite as hot as it might have been. Dean Hay didn't appear in the proverbial red flannel nightgown.

COMMENCEMENT DAYS - - Chi Omega
It would have been better for the Chi Os if the big machine had never ground the graduates out. In other words, the act was divided into cuties and ugly ducklings.

SHAKESPEAREAN SPECTACLE - - - Gamma Phi Beta
If Willie Shakespeare had seen the act he would have cried his eyes out.

Cy Barcus and his picked musicians furnished indifferent music for the affair. We suggest that he make application to the Irrational Broadcasting Company, or better still, go off and die.

I have gotten on pretty good terms with the football team.

TOOTSIE COMES TO COLLEGE

You know I have most depressing circles under my orbs; you see this is my seventh year in school and I am getting the grandest rush. All of the sororities are so nice and thoughtful, though I do think that they were more considerate back in '24.

Berniece Darwin took me over to the Delta Delta Deltas, which is called "try dealt" for short, last Friday. Why they call them "try," I don't know—perhaps they don't have as much money or can't hold their liquor as well as the rest, but as I said before, they are a most upright bunch of girls.

I escaped without any pledge pin or anything promised, though. I would have gotten away with some phonograph needles which I am badly in need of, only they went right on to the floor when I put them down my neck. I did conceal a few in my shoes when the girls all left the room to answer the phone, but I learned that needles are sharp and that crime never pays.

The Pi Phis took me out to Bagdad last night. I don't like them a little bit. Why, do you know that when I passed out, right on the floor, they just let me lay—that's what I call inconsideration—and after they had begged me for the date so. They have one little girl I am crazy about; I will have to ask her to spend the night with me some time soon. She finally came and picked me up and offered to take me home. But I was so disgusted that I flatly refused and went home with Allison Woodall; he is such a sweet lad. She said her name was Virginia Meador and she apologized and said that they pulled the same dirty trick on her when she was a freshman.

It is about time I laid the sorority question on the table, for while I have been looking them over, I have had hardly a date an evening, and am many days behind in my necking. The boys don't like it either, so it seems that while I am considering getting a social standing, I am nearly losing one. Although I am from the heart of the grape nuts country, dear old Granger, Texas, I like good strong men, not the mushy kind. However, men of real sentiment aren't barred. But my weakness being for manly men, I have gotten on pretty good terms with the football team.

However, football is now passe, though the fact that I inspired "Choc" Sanders and Ed Masters onto the All-American team will not be soon forgotten. So I thought that basketball would be all right, though I understand that the players are even more underpaid than are the football men. I was just getting ready to see who the captain was so I could make him an All-American when I saw a picture of the coach in last year's Rotunda. Such a looker. I'll bet he was a Don Juan in his prep school days. My heart just melted. But I found out that he is married and has to observe dormitory hours. So that was out—and he had such heavenly eyes!

I saw Warren Roach, a partying friend of mine, and what parties he can throw! I told him to bring around the captain of the team. I reconsidered and decided that immediate action would be better and suggested we go over to the Pi K. A. house now and get him.

"But he doesn't live there," said Warren,

in that deep throaty voice of his which can say things like nobody else can.

"He plays basketball doesn't he?" I asked.

"He tries to," Warren admitted.

"That settles it, he's a Pi K. A., so go right over there and get him."

I wasn't going to let anyone kid me. Well, he brought him over, but he too said he wasn't a Pi K. A., and he showed me a Pi K. A. pin different from the kind the others wear. However, I refuse to be kidded. He is an awfully nice kid, and though a little clumsy I think I can bring him around with a few lessons.

One day I was sitting in a Chrysler roadster somebody had kindly left parked at the entrance. Harold Dean was with me. He is quite a Sheik, as he always tells me I am keener than any of his movie star friends (he seems to be a friend of them all). Well, here we sat holding hands. I said something about the new rules passed by the Correlation Committee and what a crime it was, for I did so enjoy the faculty dances, and about finals and how glad I was that I didn't have to worry about them for several more years yet.

"But we all have to take finals this month," he murmured.

You can imagine my embarrassment; my heart went down like an elevator, but I managed to say, "Don't be a sil. You take finals when you graduate to see if you graduate. That's why they are called finals."

Well, the little A. T. O. Sheik was right. Sad it is. They might tell a girl. Here I'd gone ahead and made as heavy a date as a dorm girl is allowed—for every evening for weeks to come. It is rather hard to return home at the late hour of eight and a half and then arise the next day and shine in a class. But I was sure I could do it. However, these finals. That's what is ruining my health.

Of course all of my eye action had not been for athletes. I had managed to win the friendship of the more erudite intellectuals such as Dale Lindsay, Jack Horn, Frank Diffe and Elliott Kennemer. Each and every one has promised to help me with my lessons, so I may get through after all.

If I don't, I have a trump card to play. It is none other than Bill Lokey, who is the leading man on the campus, according to Bill Lokey, and a most un-susceptible chap. If worst comes to worst, he is going to TALK me out of trouble. He is such a good talker; he almost talked an arm off of John Hathaway McGinnis. They were on opposite ends of the phone, and as the hours past, relays of K. A. pledges held the receiver to Lokey's ear. McGinnis did his own receiving. When they finally quit, McGinnis' arm was numb. A doctor was called; he declared that amputation was necessary. However, as a last resort, McGinnis tried Desert Root Vegetable Compound. It saved the arm (testimonial). But Lokey can talk!

I found my name, a few days later, published along with several others requesting my presence at the Dean's office within the next five minutes. As I said, I wasn't the only one, but I was the best known of the list of eight. I don't think that the Dean is advertising for a date, but it might be worth while to go up and see. Gee—wouldn't it be great to go on a spree in company with the Dean?

There were two young men in the office. I didn't know either of them; they were terribly ugly. They demanded my name and life history, even to the value of a prize bull dad had bought a month ago. Upon gaining this knowledge, they both began to fight over me. If they hadn't been so horribly hideous, I would have been muchly interested. Then they began to shout, "She's mine! No, she's mine!"

I was really beginning to get frightened, but one of them soon explained that all they wanted was for me to sign up for a pledge on the Moreland Fund. I saw I had been tricked, but I guess it didn't do any harm to sign up, because I didn't have to pay cash. The plan is five more payments and the library is yours or something to that effect. I wrote dad that I had contributed $75 to a bigger and better University.

What do you think he wrote back. He told me to pack and catch the next train for home. He insinuated that anyone so dumb as to give that much money to such a cause could never gain anything by a college education. So all of these years are wasted. And the dear football boys, what will they do without me—where will they get their rejuvenating power, their inspirations?

What strange power does Claudia Heard have over Mr. Foscue?

FRATERNITY RUSH WEEK

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

Pre-rush week publicity was gained by rush captain Taylor, who was seen in town in pajamas. Because of all this publicity the A. T. O.s didn't get "bumped" a single time, (probably) because they didn't rush anyone who was wanted by any other fraternity.

DELTA CHI

Booster Bray, the childish wonder, led the Delta Chi's into a very promising rush week. They certainly worked long enough—immediately after Christmas and continuing through the summer. Each week saw some promising rushee accept a pledge button and the chapter was highly elated but, alas, before rush week was four hours old, all of their promising sew-ups had deserted them and they were forced to take what was left over after everyone else was through.

KAPPA ALPHA

The K. A. Sorority was also successful last September in pledging a number of tea sippers who are the girl's delight—they spend money on them and expect no return on their investment).

KAPPA SIGMA

The Kappa Sig's have one rush talk—all of their loving cups. Reason: Their so-called athletes who aren't good enough to make the Varsity teams fall back on Intra-Mural athletics as a compensation for their Varsity failure. They are very proud that they pledged the brainless wonder, E. Gordon Perry.

GRIND SECTION

PHI DELTA THETA

After three Phi Delt sew-ups wandered to other fraternity houses and changed their minds, everything looked dark and dreary. Soon they became so discouraged that they solicited aid from another fraternity, but to no avail, and as a last resort the chapter decided to pledge W. W. Caruth to help pay for the large deficit on the house.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

The Pi K. A. rush captain, Kenneth Mahoney, had to take a three weeks rest cure after the storm of rush week had passed over—it was bad enough not to pledge anyone who amounted to anything, but to lose two little brothers was too much. It is rumored that they have been making dire threats all year about what they will do next year. Here's hoping—they need it badly enough.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

The S. A. E.s lived up to their old policy of pledging any country hick who would take a button. At present they have an exceptionally cute kindergarten.

P. S.—Ask them about their African brothers in the East.

LEFT OVERS

The Delta Beta Chi's, Lambda Chi's, Theta Phi's and Delta Sigma Phi's, we are sorry to say, are of so little importance that it has been impossible to get any inside dope on them.

Candy-pullings and quilting parties are given every Sunday afternoon at the Pi K. A. country estates. Come around!

He (calling over the phone): Miss Davidson there?

Helen: Hello, boy friend!

He: I hear you are president of the Pi Mu chapter?

Helen: Hell no! I'm a fat Pi Beta Phi!
(With apologies to the Phi Mus).

WIN No. 0000.01!

Big friendship offer. Never in all prize history have such monstrous gifts been offered to the public. If opportunity has never knocked at your door, wake up and take advantage of this stupendous offer, which will be open for only sixteen hours after the official presentation of The Rotunda of 1930. In addition to the large prize there is offered one set of second-hand false teeth for promptness.

Rules for the contest:

1. Each social highlight must be recognized from the description herein presented of same.
2. All entrants must be in on or before the sixteenth of any of the alternate months.
3. Contestants must send their correct answers on a blank sheet of paper.
4. No contestant can send in more than forty-four sets of correct answers.
5. Persons whose character sketches are herein presented, theologs, Prexy's personal friends, lawyers, engineers, and other low lifes are excluded from the contest.

Now then read the following character descriptions and recognize the characters.

CHARACTER No. I

A sot who is slovenly dressed, who thinks he is the Joe College, who drives a big roaring automobile which has some new fangled radio; he is an ardent believer and preacher of the pseudo good features of his fraternity (which is the second sorriest on the hill, being scarcely beat to the superlative rank by the Lambda Chi chapter). He is the direct descendant of the well known jackass.

To give you a start and show you how it is done we will furnish contestants with the correct answer to the first description. The above character analysis is representative of any of the members of the Phi Delta Theta chapter.

CHARACTER No. II

From the front, the side and the rear, he has the appearance of the well known white

MEMBERS ALL

These Sig Alphas thought they would rate the feature section. The boy driving is a visiting member from one of the Northern chapters and is not a chauffeur as may be presumed by many.

A HUNTER IN ACTION

elephant. He is another one of those political lawyers who attempt a big front (he does succeed in this physically). We wonder if his loss of weight this year is due to the absence of Miss Lila McGinty and the fact that there is no one to use his automobile for him since she is gone. He possesses the horse laugh that is characteristic of all chumps.

CHARACTER No. III

Kindergarten—ugh! Well, it is a good profession for silly people. (If such is the case, we understand why the A. O. Pi chapter happens to have so many of these pseudo artists). You have seen girls with double chins—you have noticed that they are the ones that usually laugh the loudest and craziest—well if the size of the chin is governed by the silliness of the laugh, this female is nothing else but chin. It seems that the A. O. Pi chapter would stop her from making such war whoops in the Co-Op. She is giving some freshman of the Common White Trash organization the run around Wright.

CHARACTER No. IV

You have seen these guys that think that they are the big stuff of the campus. Well, he attempts the dress and beauty of the Tri Deltas, the care-free attitude of an A. T. O. and the politeness of the Dean of Men—but still he looks like a Delta Chi. The chapter ought to say something to him but I guess he is one of their best men and they are afraid to say anything to him. We often wonder what he did with all of the money he made off the inter-fraternity dance; we noticed that Bernice Ballard came out in a new dress (something unusual) a few days later—perhaps that is the secret. We might add that he keeps most fitting company—he very seldom is seen with anyone other than Tiny Shook.

CHARACTER No. V

It seems to me that when a gal has graduated and working on a Masters in Sociology that she wouldn't have time to run around courting all of the time—especially with members of the Kappa Alpha chapter. If she can't stay away from them she might exclude her courting from the Co-Op. If I was an A. O. Pi, I would suggest severing all relations with her so that she could go ahead and become No. 1 in the K. A. chapter.

CHARACTER No. VI

He is the pride and joy of the A. T. O. chapter. Never had a serious thought, intention or action. He is the real mamma's boy. If he continues to go out for football at the first of each season, he will never finish school: Last year I understand they used him as a substitute for the tackling dummy. Enjoys kidding the little freshmen to such an extent that one of them is going to mount him some day soon. He was the A. T. O. personality boy until Gene Hamiter came along.

CHARACTER No. VII

He is the teatottling type, though he does think that he can play football. I guess the K. A.s are proud of him; he is the only athlete they boast. He evidently is not a true member of the White Trash Society for he objects to Sunday affairs being called teas—perhaps this shows his inclination to be a roughneck A. T. O.

NOTE: Dr. Selecman, Mr. St. Clair and the Dean of Men asked that their character analysis be excluded from the above contest on the grounds that they were married men.

Helen Davidson: These Delta Beta Chis simply burn me up. Imagine them not inviting me on their picnic!

Helen Gresham: Forget it! Here I am pining away to a shadow and Ralph still has that Zeta out in my car.

The Thetas seem to be giving the Delta Gammas a big fight for the brute athletes of the campus.

FEW men, in the face of competition, adhere to fine standards. They argue that to sacrifice outstanding quality for the sake of outstanding price, will bring success more easily, more quickly. But is that success?

With "The Best-Built Line" of store and bank equipment as an ally, any path of competition will be found easy to travel. After all, superior facilities always explode that inferior theory of "cheap success!"

*Won't you please write and let us offer suggestions of real value to you?

"Have you heard the new smoke story?"
said Sir Walter at Plymouth Palace.
"You strain it thru a pricked thimble, and it turns into candlelight."

HISTORY is quite handy, when you start advertising. You can hark back, for instance, to Sir Walter Scott's witty remarks about Murdoch's first illuminating gas in London. The popular nobleman chuckled merrily in 1792 at the optimism of the discoverer.

"Next thing you know," he joked, "we shall be lighting the streets of London with this coal smoke that burns thru a thimble."

And this brings us by easy stages to your own Dallas gas, that comes into town in five directions from independent fields, from the greatest natural gas belt in the world . . . West Texas, the Panhandle and Oklahoma.

For operating the home refrigerator, or running a factory, it supplies a rich and spotless heat, for even less money than ordinary heat would cost.

TODAY you're Grads—and here's our heartiest congratulations. You've arrived at a goal of long standing. You've tackled a job and finished it.

As the years roll on, the memories connected with your stay here will be more and more dear to you. The most trivial incident yesterday, when looked back upon in later life, will take on a tender significance.

The Ownby Stadium will be one of the spots around which these memories will cling. It is here that many a friendship was formed—and the love of your Alma Mater woven into the very fiber of your being.

So prosaic a thing as cement has made this possible. But this cement is worthy to be thus entwined with your dearest souvenirs . . . and when you return again and again to Ownby Stadium you'll find this cement playing its part in other lives as it has played its part in yours.

We are proud with you today—for it's . . .

Run Better with

GASOLINE

Whether your car is one of the shiny, new models or several years old, Humble Flashlike Gasoline will make the motor start easier, get away more quickly, run faster and smoother. No sputtering or choking, when Humble Flashlike Gasoline is in the fuel tank. It gives up its power instantly. Burns clean, lessens crankcase dilution, and leaves less carbon. It is the efficient fuel for any model of any car.

*Sold wherever you see the Humble sign.

Making your car
perform better
and last longer

Making your car perform better and last longer is mostly a matter of common sense care and the use of a pure, distilled and sturdy bodied lubricant to combat wear and tear on moving parts.

SUNOCO MOTOR OIL, 100 per cent distilled, is just such an oil to provide the utmost in protective lubrication. Use it regularly. Remember that it works best alone—unmixed with other oils. Remember, too, that with SUNOCO you'll get no hard carbon—because there's nothing in it that can cause this troublesome hard carbon.
